WASHINGTON'S INTEREST DEEP.

Regret Felt in Official Circles at the Hitch Between Military and Civil Commissioners—Gen. Otis's Views Upheld.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] MANILA, May 23 .- [Exclusive Dis patch.] The first information about the shocking manner in which the men from the Yorktown have been treated by their Filipino captors has been obtained. It is furnished in an interview with Gen. Lawton when he captured San Isidro that the American prisoners had been cruelly abused and subjected to outageous indignities at the hands of Aguinaldo's barbarian soldiers.

Gen. Lawton, after thirty days of successful campaigning, is resting with 6000 men at Candaba. He said to the Journal's correspondent in describing his victorious march of a month's duration:

"It pained me when we got int San Isidro to see on the walls of the prison the names of the fifteen Americans from the Yorktown, From Col. Ray, the Spanish officer whom we rescued, I learned that one of the American prisoners escaped from his captors. His freedom was short-lived, for he was afterward recaptured. He was stretched on the ground before his fellow-prisand twenty lashe

"We found a letter near San Isidro, written by one of the Yorktown's crew, saying that they were eing kicked; that their hair was being pulled out, and that they were cruelly treated in various other ways and praying for their fellowountrymen to hurry to their re

"The insurgents make a practice of murdering Chinamen who fall into their hands, and our men, I uppose, should consider themselves fortunate that they have not been similarly treated, though the cruelties and indignities heaped upor them must be hard to bear.

"I would have advanced to Tarla but was informed that I was north of the insurgent's main forces. Hence I asked for Kobbe's brigade, can advance and reach Tarlac in six days, unless the present negotiations between the Filipinos and our commission accomplishes peace The whole country is nothing but intrenchments.

"I have had during the last month twenty-two engagements. Six of my men have been killed in the field: two have died from wounds, and thirty-five have been wounded, while the losses of the insurgents were over four hundred killed, prisoners.

"I released eleven Spanish pris oners, established civil government in San Miguel, Balluag and San Isiiro, and safely conducted five hundred and forty Chinese refugees, who were in fear of their lives. In stroyed two hundrd thousand bushels of rice, one hundred and sixtybushels of corn. This is my record for one month.

"The supplies I destroyed would leed an army of thirty thousand men six months. I gave each of my pristhem loose after destroying their Bolo men at Tarlac, with no weapons except the primitive ones they carry. It is my opinion that, once the insurrection is over, little trouble will be experienced with the natives, who have been falsely impressed with their own power by their leaders. The native priests have given much assistance to me.

"The country is grandly beautifu and fertile. Few white men have ever penetrated into the mountains on account of the prevailing fear of the Igo-rotes, who inhabit the highlands, and whose fierceness has been greatly exaggerated. The mountaineers are really harmless.

"In the provinces of Bulucan and Neuvae Cija, my men stood well the long stretches they were forced to make. They are in a healthy condition. I must mention my brave scouts, twenty-five in number. I deeply deplore the loss of Chiefs Young and Harrington, two as brave and fearless men as I ever met. The work done by the scouts has been equal to that of any regiment in the Philippines.

"In all the towns through which passed I established town councils made up of natives. In San Miguel the council elected a mayor, and I re mained there long enough to see the municipal government in active opera tion. It proved satisfactory.

"Ten of the twenty-two engagements fought by us were very severe. small loss was due to the fact that I flanked the enemy each time, and came in on his trenches in the rear."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] MANILA, May 23, 6:15 p.m.-[By Manila Cable.] The Filipino commissioners spent the day at the residence of the American commissioners. The discussed every point of the scheme of government and the peace proclamation details, asking for information as to what personal rights would be guaranteed them.

Col. Charles Denby of the American ommission explained that they would be the same as under the United States Constitution. The Filipinos also desired information as to the school system to be established, and approve f the American policy of separation of church and state. They chiefly objected to the scheme on the ground that it gave them personal liberty, which they know they would have, but did not give them political liberty. Finally the Filipinos said they were personally pleased with the plan, but could not ndorse it officially. During the day the Filipino commis sioners called upon Gen. Otis, and they will repeat their call tomorrow. There is much comment here on the outing the Filipino envoys are enjoying. They are arrayed in blue coats, scarlet trousers and gold lace, and drive about the city, reveling in the attentions bestowed on them, which is evidently xceedingly gratifying to them. They are the centers of continual levees at Filipino houses, where they have been entertained, and have had every opportunity to advance the interests of the insurrection. Military sentiment disapproves of the Filipinos being lionized by their civilian element. Gen. Otis, from ante-bellum experience and owing to the Filipinos' fondness of discussion, has maintained the attitude he assumed with the first commission. He has had no offer to make the Filipinos, save that they lay down their arms without terms. The army believes that if this country intends to retain control of the Philippine Islands will be cheaper in the long run to whip the insurgents so thoroughly that they would be glad of the opportunity to surrender, rather than parley with them and make terms which they would construe as a compromise. The army is also of the opinion tha while the first course may cost more men and more money, in the beginning, than the latter, it will prove an effect tual damper upon future insurrections whereas, if the war is ended by a com promise, the professional revolutionists mong the Tagals may be encouraged Prof. Schurman, speaking of the ommission's policy, said: "I believe force was necessary because the thought us weaklings and cowards; but I believe also that conciliation should accompany force. My endeavor, since I came here, has been to exercise onciliation." The professor is most optimistic as to he results of the negotiations, and believes the scheme of government proposed by the United States Commission will ultimately be adopted.

Rosiario, a Filipino Congressman, s wealthy resident of Manila, and for merly Aguinaldo's commissary-general, accompanied by an insurgent captain, called upon Maj.-Gen. Otis today and announced that "we desire to surrender our persons and property into the hands of the Americans." The surrender was arranged by Chaplain Pierce of the Fourteenth Regiment, who knew Rostario before the war Rostario corresponded in ciphe

Transcontinental Freight Rates

But the Middle West Objects to a Change.

dent Contest is Waged Between the Conflicting Interests in Conference at St. Paul-Delegate from Many Cities Present.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ST. PAUL (Minn.,) May 23.-Repre entatives of the jobbing interests of the Pacific Coast and the importan ercial centers of the Middle West met in a conference in the Ryan Hotel oday, the result of which will greatly affect the transcontinental shipping business. The subject of discussion was the recent transcontinental freight tariff put into effect by the two northern roads, May 1, which, the western men claim, will ultimately cause then severe loss.

Jobbers of the Middle West, on the contrary, hold that they cannot afford to see the tariff changed, and the opposing factions are arguing the matter before representatives of the western roads. Two sessions were held today. an adjournment without a decision being taken at 5 o'clock. A third session will convene tomorrow morning.

The Coast jobbers represent that it the present tariffs are continued it will ultimately result in curtailing their trade. They desire a greater difference between car and less than carload rates, and the prohibition of "mixed carload" shipments. They maintain that unless a greater difference is made in car and less than carload rates, they are certain to lose trade in their immediate territory, to which they hold they are justly entitled.

The contest, though entirely friendly between the representatives of the two interests, is nevertheless close, and is being waged in earnest. Strong delewere on hand from San Frangation cisco, Tacoma, Seattle and other coast points to urge a change of tariff, while St. Louis, Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth were equally well represented by delegations ardent in securing the naintenance of present freight rates.

About eighty jobbers in all were represented, and were met in St. Paul by J. M. Hannaford, vice-president of the Northern Pacific; Francis B. Clarke, raffic manager of the Great Northern; Freight Agent Somers of the Great Northern, and other prominent officials. The presentation of the case was followed by a general discussion. In the afternoon the representatives of the wholesale and jobbing interests of the jobbers did not take advantage of their position, which they had advanced as their main argument, and that evidence of this was found in the fact that they received only about 25 per cent. of the articles on which the less ration by the water route, while the remaining 75 per cent. comes to them across

They advanced the argument that present rates on less than carloaus are from 50 cents to $3 per hundred pounds in advance of the carload rates, and that this difference is, or ought to be, sufficient for their complete protection

Duel at Paris Over the Important Point Whether the Melanchol Dane Was Fat or Thin-Wounded Ian Has Fought Fourteen Duels Yet Uses His Sword Badly.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.1 PARIS, May 23.—[By Atlantic Ca-ole.] A duel has been fought on the e de Grande Gatte, between Catulle Mendez, the French author and dra-matic critic, and M. Vanar. The quarrel which led to the meet-ing grew out of a discussion Saturday last during an entre act at the Theate de la Place du Chatte, where Sara Bernhardt produced her version of "Hamlet," and played the title role in black costume and with blonde hair. Mendez and Vanar engaged in a disputeas whether Hamlet should be fat or thin. This is Mendez's fourteenth duel. He is not a good fencer, but walks toward his adversary, waving his sword like a fan. The encounter was stopped four times under the belief that Mendez was wounded, and the fifth time when it was stopped it found him with an ugly wound in the abdomen. Vanar obviously tried to wound Mendez in the hand or forearm, but the latter was determined toadvance, and the result was that he sustained a serious wound.

Vanar expressed regret at the outcome of the encounter, but Mendez shook hands with his adversary and treated the affair lightly, though it was evident he was suffering great pain.

REMARKABLE COURT-MARTIAL Captain in the Philippines Escape on Serious Charges.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, May 23.—A special he Tribune from Washington says: "The War Department has received rom the Philippines the official reco of a remarkable trial by court-martial of an officer, who has escaped conviction on a charge of a grave character, in a manner altogether inexplicable to the military legal authorities here. It appears from the order approving the proceedings, which did not, therefore, require action in Washington, that Capt. Jones B. Jeffries, assistant quartermaster of volunteers, was tried at Manila for 'quitting his post to pillage and plunder, in violation of the forty-second article of war," and for conduct unbecoming an officer and a nduct unbe oming an officer and

Under the first charge it was specified that Capt. Jeffries, while on duty at Iloilo one night in February, left his post and entered the house of a nahis post and entered the house of a native against her proteest, and appropriated household furniture, silverware, jewelry, etc., to the value of about $500, which he divided among the private soldiers with him. The specifications under the second charge describe him as then appearing intoxicated among the men and offering them liquor, etc. Just how he was acquitted does not appear, but he was found not gullty, and that is the end of the affair, so far as the authorities are concerned. "Capt. Jeffries is a native of Canada and was appointed to the volunteer army from Illinois in May, 1898."

Court of Honor Formed of the Three Squares Fronting State, War and Navy Buildings-The President and Cabinet View the March.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, May 23.-Beginning ith an imposing parade of military nd other uniformed organizations, and closing with a display of fireworks at ight, the national capital today inaugurated a three days' peace jubilee. The main thoroughfares of the city and all the public buildings are decorated with bunting, and the attractive programme of parades and festivities has drawn a large number of visitors. With the exception of a shower, which vas not of sufficient duration to mar the occasion, the weather was ideal. The day opened with the boom of big uns from the Dolphin, which, anchored off the navy yard, fired the naional salute at sunrise, and church himes and hundreds of steam whistles joined in the noisy chorus. At noon the departments closed and poured their thousands out to join the crowds on the streets, and at the same hour salute of forty-five guns was fired.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] WASHINGTON, May 23 .- Washingon's peace jubilee was inaugurated at unrise today by a national salute of thirteen guns from the Dolphin, anchored off the navy yard, and by the chime of bells and sound of steam whistles all over the city. The day had been declared a half-holiday in the departments, and the employes of nearly all the bureaus were released at noon, the hour being marked by a salute of forty-five guns.

The first day's festivities were marked by a parade, comprising all the regular army and naval organizations stationed in and around Washington, together with the District of Columbia Volunteers, the Delaware National Guard, the Chinese naval reserve of Philadelphia, the veterans of the Grand Army, and the Fourth and Ninth Volunteer Regiments (immunes.) The day, which opened bright and promising, became heavily overcast at noon; and the guns had scarcely finished the national salute before there was a downpour of rain that plastered the bunting decorations flat across the house fronts, and the crowd, which had just begun to gather on the

The storm, however, was of brief duration. The sun came out and shone Over 5000 men were in the parade. The route was that followed by the inauguration parades, down Pennsylvania avenue, around the Treasury, and in front of the White House grounds, where a large reviewing stand, gracefully decorated with bunting, had been erected. The three squares extending from the State, War and Navy to the Treasury building, had been transormed into a court of honor. On each side classic columns were reared, and two broad arches, spanned by festooned flags and bunting, marked the entrance and exit to the court.

The public benches along the avenue at this point were black with people, and the surrounding parks were thronged. The President, members of his Cabinet and their wives, Ambas sadors and foreign ministers with their attachés, Gen. Miles and staff and many prominent people in public and private life occupied the reviewing stand. The enthusiasm was great as the parade passed through the court of honor. Cheers and applause greeted favorite organizations. The coal and ore handlers may be a possible disturbing element. While they originally went out in sympathy with the scoopers, they have since formulated a demand for increased wages. It is believed, however, that their grievances will be adjusted satisfactorily during the day.

The marine firemen's symapthetic strike has been declared off, and the men are returning to work. The freight handlers are asking for the discharge of several bosses, but their grievances will probably be satisfactorily airranged. The understanding is that the working scoopers will all quit work tonight, subject to the agreement to aubmit their eligibility to work. Contractor Connors has named Dave

Nugent and John Lynch to represent the contractor on the committee of five to decide as to the eligibility of certain members of old local 51 to membership in the new union. Presi-dent McMahon and Bart Conners, sec-retary of the new union, will represent the men.

PASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT. FALMOUTH, May 22—[By Atlantic Cable.] A leading Cornish diver, who returned here tonight from the steamer Paris, takes a very pessimistic view of the prospects of saving the liner. To the correspondent of the Associated Press he said:

"I do no tanticipate that the Paris will be refloated. She is plerced by rocks amidships, her foreholds are badly damaged, the bulkheads are practically useless, and even if she were got off the rocks, I believe she would sink.

"In my opinion the only remedy is "In my opinion the only remedy is a false bottom, which it would take a month to complete, and I believe that even moderately enough weather in the meantime would break up the ship." Everything is in readiness for tomorrow's effort to float the vessel, if the weather continues favorable.

ANOTHER DIVER'S FINDINGS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] FALMOUTH, May 23.—Later in the day a diver reported that the Paris has sustained heavy damage from her bow to a point seventy feet aft, but he thinks the principal damage is in-side the double bottom. THE PASSENGERS' MOVEMENTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] FALMOUTH, May 23.-The most of the passengers of the American line steamer Paris, which ran on the rocks off Lowland Point, near Coverack, off Lowland Point, hear Coverage, Cornwall, early Sunday morning, while on her way to New York from South-ampton, left here on two special trains this morning. Some of them will go on board the North German Lloyd on board the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which is scheduled to touch at South-ampton today, but the majority of them will take passage on board the American line steamer St. Paul, which is to sail for New York from Southampton Saturday next.

The travelers were intensely grateful to the Cornish folk for the uninterested hospitality of the latter, and as the trains moved out of the station, the passengers lustily cheered those who had assembled on the platform to wish them godspeed.

The weather was favorable to the stranded ship. A light wind is blowing, and there is no serious amount of wash. Soundings which have been taken show the ship to be resting more favorably, owing to the fact that she has been considerably lightened. She is not straining at all, and there is a percepitible movement of the ship, showing a clear passage, free from rocks. Should the steamer show signs of sinking when taken in tow, it is proposed to run her on a flat sandy bar adjoining the place where she struck. Powerful tugs belonging to the Liverpool Salvage Association are expected to arrive at the scene of the wreck this evening, and the divers believe the additional pumps will clear the first four holds. The fifth is so badly pierced that no amount of pumping will clear it. The remaining six holds are secure.

The officers of the Paris still refuse to furnish any explanation of her getting out of her course. An official of the Board of Trade came here for the purpose of obtaining information, but the officers refused to answer any questions, on the ground that the Brit-ish Board of Trade has no jurisdiction, and the inquiry into the disaster must take place in the United States, as the Paris is under the American flag

It is regarded as perhaps a misfortune this phase of the situation was not reached before Admiral Dewey, by leaving Manila for home, lost to the commission the benefit of his experience and sound judgment. It is realized here that much tact is required at this juncture in order, while avoiding extreme measures with the Filipinos, not to fall into the much graver error of losing the expensively-bought fruits of the victories of the American army and navy.

The War Department is inclined to upport Gen. Otis, not, only because of his connection with the war, but also on the ground that his longer experience with the insurgents better fits him to understand the native character. However, the President is giving the matter his close personal attention, assisted not only by Secretary Hay, who is directly responsible for the instructions given to the commission, but by all members of the Cabinet, and a proper outcome of the little difference may be expeced.

FRANCISCO, May 23.- [Exclusive Dispatch.1 The United States transport Sheridan arrived from Manila late last night, but its passengers were not landed until this morning. Among the distinguished officers from Manila who came in on the Sheridan are Brig.-Gen. Marcus P. Miller, retired, and Col. Lippincott, who has been, since the sailing of Gen. Merritt last June, chief surgeon in the Philippines. The officers and ladies of the Presidio went round the bay on the tug McDowell last night, and with a band of the Twenty-fourth Infantry serenaded the outgoing Sherman and the incoming Sheridan.

The serenade to the Sheridan was particularly in honor of Brig.-Gen. Miller, who was colonel of the Third Artillery here. Brig.-Gen. Miller will remain here temporarily. Col. Lippincott will go on to Washington to consult with the Surgeon-General of the army, on the condition of medical affairs in the Philippines. He has had a heavy responsibility on his shoulders for the last year, and is full of valuable ideas for the maintenance of health among the troops in the Philippines.

Among the passengers on the Sheridan was Mrs. Stotsenburg, widow of the gallant major of Nebraska Volunteers, who fell while leading his men against the insurgents. Mrs. Stotsenburg is in poor health, and is greatly depressed over the sad fate of her husband. She was in Manila at the

WASHINGTON, May 23,—Assistant Secretary of War Melklejohn has received through Secretary of State Hay a letter from United States Consul-General Dubose at St. Gall, Switzer-land, in which the latter says:

"I recently took occasion to ask some Swiss merchants for information regarding the condition of the affairs at Manila and Iloilo, where they have large commercial interests. It will be that in every instance the most cheerful views were expressed and real sat-isfaction shown at the present condition of trade. As one gentleman ex-pressed it, 'Our trade continues good in time of war, and we have every reason to look forward to an era of great pros perity in the Philippines, when peace is permanently established."

"One of these merchants quoted a part of a letter from his son, written in effect that the discipline and bravery of every United States soldier heavy of every United States soldier has won the admiration of all foreigners. The coolness and splendid courage shown by the men going into battle is mar-velous, and will not soon pass from the memory of those who witnessed their surpassing valor."

WASHINGTON, May 23.-The main eature of the Cabinet meeting today was the reading and discussion of a detailed report from Gen. Otis regard-ing the military operations in the Phil-ippines. The report carried the opera-tions up to April, and is considered satisfactory. It was decided to make it public. It will probably be given by Secretary Alger this afternoon. But foreign countries cannot recognize the flag of a country that does not exist, and American registry cannot be granted to ships owned by citizens of a foreign country.

The question presents many complications, and it is recognized that a great injustice is being done to the Cuban owners of ships under the existing state of affairs. Secretary Gage will confer with the Bureau of Navigation regarding the matter, in the hope that some solution may be found.

GEN. OTIS'S REPORT.

GEN. OTIS'S REPORT. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Gen. Otis's report, received by mail and read by the President at the Cabinet meeting today, is pronounced by those who heard it a most interesting summary of the situation in the Philippines. In the main it presents the subject from the military standpoint, but probably the most important contribution is that covering the correspondence between Gen. Otis and Aguinaldo, just preceding the outbreak, showing conclusively that the American commander used every effort to avoid a conflict.

The communications from Aguinaldo bear his signature, and give little evidence of a conciliatory spirit or a disposition to accept American rule. The members of the Cabinet believe that they furnish a conclusive showing of the rectitude of our course in dealing with the uprising. It was felt to be such a strong presentation of the conditions leading up to the insurrection now existing that it was determined to make it public at once. Time was required, however, to make a summary and prepare copies, and these will be given out tomorrow. The report covers about fifteen typewritten pages, and brings the subject up to about six weeks ago.

Señor Mora, the Supreme Court official, in an interview, is quoted as saying that he agrees that Señor Lanuza, head of the Department of Science and Public Instruction, was wrong to abolish the incommunicado system before reforming the entire procedure. According to the present method, it is pointed out, a prisoner cannot arrange to have his friends testify favorably, or subsidize a lawyer.

The Spanish code severely punishes perjury, but the people here have not the respect for an oath which people have in the United States. This is owing to the corruption of the Spanish officials. Therefore, Señor Mora added, the matter "requires careful study, and in the meanwhile I will allow no change until prepared to complete the reform process."

The. Rev. L. B. Maxwell of Savannah, Prof. R. W. Taylor of Tuskegee University and Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett were the colored speakers who pleaded for the edu-cation of the negro.

Rev. L. B. Maxwell's' address was entitled, "The White Man's Burden," and set forth the mission of Congrega-tionalism to the negro. Referring to the elective franchise, the speaker said that those who contended that it should have an educational basis were not far from the negro in that view. Said Mr. Maxwell: "All we ask is an equal standard for all."

President J. G. K. McClure of Lake Forest University, in the course of an address on "The Burden of the Black Man," said that he solution of the problem was in the determination of the will of the colored people. said the colored man should no asked: "What are my rights?" should we let him, but, "What do I owe to society?" Thus would he elevate himself.

Prof. Taylor said that whether the Frof. Taylor said that whether the burden was the white man's or the black man's made little difference. The divine injunction, "bear ye one another's burdens" would, if obeyed, lighten both. At the conclusion of this discussion, Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett spoke on the southern negroes, pleading that blacks me made licentiates.

Convention of Determined Men De cides to Boycott the Refrigerator Combine, and Patronize an Independent Concern.

Organization Formed and Member Contribute Hundreds of Dollars Toward Overthrow of Armour-Earl-Porter Triumvirate.

Murder at Bakersfield-Fight on peals Set Aside.

TRY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SACRAMENTO, May 23.-[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fruit-growers of Calinbled today in convention off the yoke of the refrigerator com bine. After this declaration of intention they proceeded with calm determina-tion to carry out their purpose. Before the convention adjourned tonight the nucleus of an organization which to deal a death blow to the oar and shipping monopoly, had bee formed, and the big throng of grower retired from the convention hall with a prospect and assurance of soon hav-ing an independent refrigerator line to haul their green fruit shipments to

The assemblage which met in the State capital this morning was the most notable and important gathering of deciduous fruit-growers ever held in California. The attendance was fully up to the expectations of the most sanguine among the growers. The Senat chamber where the convention was held was none too large for the purpose of the gatherng. The crowd filled all the chairs on the floor of the big auditorium and overflowed into the lobby. In the big gathering of earnest deter-mined men was a fair sprinkling of women who own fruit ranches, and who have felt the unrelenting greed of Armour, Earl and Porter, and whose sympathies, therefore, are bound up in the movement to defeat the plot-

The result of its all is that the fruitgrowers are in a fair way to utterly defeat the plans and prospects of the rator-car combine, and to efhas been nurtured by the refrigerator car barons. The prospect for the fruit-growers of California is more rosy than it has been in many years. The many scores of growers in Sacramento to-night are filled with hope. They have started an organization, which, when perfected, will yield power and influence by the side of which the power and influence by the side of which the power and influence by the side of which the power and influence the property of the proper of the refrigerator-car dictators will fade into insignificance.

The committee appointed to draft plans for organization, declared that the refrigerator-car combine can be broken by the fuit-growers of Callfornia by withdrawing their business from two lines that are now operating in this State, and by patronizing an in-dependent refrigerator line. If suffi-cient business can be guaranteed by wers, an independent refrigerator line, with the equipment of 1000 cars, of light weight and fiften tons capacity, can be placed in service in time to move the present deciduous

Acting on the report of the committee, the growrers proceeded to start organization. A pledge was to give their support to the proposed organization. For the purpose of de-fraying the expense of the organization, each person who signed subscribed $25 or less to a fund, and the aggregate subscriptions of scores of growers who attached their names to the list will provide expenses for the work of perfecting a plan of organization Nearly every grower present insisted on paying the amount of his subscripthen and there, and W. E. Lovcustodian of the fund, soon had hundreds of dollars in glittering gold on his desk. At the evening session E. I. Galvin of Saoramento, W. R. Fountain of New-cestle, F. A. Chadbourne of Suisun, T. B. Lowdale of Stockton and Fred C. Miles of Penryn were appointed a comto obtain the pledges of grow ers to join the organization and also to obtain cash for the purpose of pay-ing expenses. The committee is emto obtain cash for the purpose as any open series. The committee is empowered to prepare a constitution and bylaws and to call a meeting of the members to adopt these, and elect a president and board of directors. The committee, as finally selected, is composed of a body of men all of whom are conclused and the opinion prevails general cash of the committee of workers, and the opinion prevails gen-erally that there will be a speedy ac-complishment of the purpose for which the convention was called.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, May 23.-The fruitgrowers' convention opened in the Sen-ate chamber here this morning, with the reading of answers to certains questions propounded to the Southern Pacific Railroad as to what it would do for the growers in the way of ventilator and refrigerator car service.

The railroad replied that it had once built ventilator cars at the request of the growers; that these cars were not the growers; that these cars were not patronized, and the company had converted them into box cars at a great expense to itself. It now had none of these on hand. When refrigerator cars came into California there were a number of independent lines, most of which had gone out of business, from one cause and another, until there now remained only two—the California Fruit Express and the Continental Fruit Transportation Company. The company could not encourage the comingin of other lines, as it feared this would tend to demoralize business. The action of the growers in stirring up the matter at this time, when, it was said, the prospects for a big fruit season were bright, was deprecated.

The effect of the railroad's communication was somewhat dampening upon the ardor of the convention, but the leading men among the growers declare it will not stand in the way of organization A committee of five was appointed, to which will be referred all plans relative to organization to report back before final adjournment, which is expected to take place tonight. The convention took a recess to 2 p.m.

This afternoon the Committee on Organization reported in favor of the formation of a fruit-growers' association upon the same lines as the Southern California association. It is believed the report will be adopted.

E. K. Benchley said there was only one thing to break the combination—they must organize. He favored local organizations with a central organization. J. N. Barton of Placer also favored organization as the only salvation of the growers. E. I. Galvin of Sacramento spoke of the necessity for honest packing of growers, and said that it would make and hold markets.

A. B. Sprague of the Citrus Fruit Exchange of Los Angeles advised immediate organization, and told what: thad done for the south. He favored a strong central organization with local ones. Gerald Geraldson read a paper advocating a fruit trust, of which all the growers should be members. The committee appointed in the morning, reported in favor of immediate organization. The matter was discussed at some length, R. D. Stephens saying that he believed he could do his own business better than to pay another man a big salary to tell him what to do. The difference between deciduous and other fruits, he said, was that the latter requires no icing and the express is less.

"The commission men have built up their own interests out of those of the growers, and have control of the goods and ship them where they wish. The growers must take affairs into their own hands, or they will soon have no remedy. The only salvation is organization, and it can be done at a small comparative outlay."

The report of the committee was adopted, and a pledge was circulated and signed by most of the growers. In the evening the convention met again to perfect an organization.

Mr. Gordon, owing to private matters, was unable to serve; and his withdrawal, which was accepted, gave cause for remodeling the committee. The subcommittee again retired, and later reported the names of A. D. Cutts of Live Oak, and Fred C. Miles of Penryn, to be substituted for Alexander Gordon and H. L. Gibbs, respectively. Mr. Cutts declined to serve, on account of ill-health and press of business, and E. I. Galvin of Sacramento was substituted in his stead. As so remodeled, the report of the committee was adopted, and at 10:40 o'clock the convention adjourned sine die.

After the convention adjourned the Executive Committee met and organized by electing Russ D. Stephens of Sacramento, chairman, and Fred C. Miles of Penryn, Placer county, secretary. The committee will meet in executive session tomorrow morning for the purpose of agreeing upon a line of future action.

AUSTRALIA IN PORT.

Fatal Fight on Board the Vessel as Honolulu.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO May 23.—The teamer Australia arrived from Hono lulu today and brought word that the United States transport Solace arrived at Honolulu May 15 from Manila via Hongkong. The Australia has on board many invalided and incapacitated men

Among her passengers are Gen. King and Majs. Purdy and Nickerson. Attorney A. S. Humphreys has filed information in the Supreme Court of Hawaii charging Atty.-Gen. Cooper with misconduct in office. The charges are lengthy and specific and Atty.-Gen. Cooper has been cited to appear before the Supreme Court in June

Serious trouble occurred on the Australia just as she was leaving the harbor at Honolulu. Trouble had been brewing between the two men ployed in the galley, named Wade (col-ored) and Hall. Wade had threatened to kill Hall, and commenced a hunt for him shortly after leaving the dock. Another employe, named Gillespie, saw Wade with his pistol in hand and tried to take the weapon from the negro. In the struggle Wade shot Gillespie twice, once in the leg and once in the abdomen.

Among the people attracted to the spot was the captain of the Horlulu police, Evans, who was waiting for the pilot to take him off the steamer. Evans demanded Wade's grant of the pilot to the steamer. steamer. Evans demanded Wade's gun, but the negro refused to give it up and threatened to shoot any one who tried to take it from him. Capt. Evans got a rifle from one of the staterooms and ordered Wade to throw up his hands. Instead of obeying Wade aimed at Evans, but Evans was too guick for Evans, but Evans was too quick for him, and dropped the negro with a bullet in his head. Both the wounded men were taken back to Honolulu on the pilot boat. It is believed that Gillespie will die, but how serious the wounds of the negro were could not be determined.

Cariboo Chinaman Gives a Stage driver a Strange Load

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES, VANCOUVER (B. C.,) May 23.-[Ex clusive Dispatch.] Hip Yen, a China man living in Quesnelle, Cariboo, re-cently had two girls working for him in his store, who arrived from the Orient some three months ago. They were 14 and 16 years of age, respectively. Last week an expressman on the stage from Hip Yen's place two large dry goods boxes labeled Yuen Lee, Soda Creek. During the sixty-mile drive the passengers several times thought they heard mysterious noise from the rear of the coach, and finally asked the driver to investigate.

The noises were traced to the dry goods boxes. There were heard distinct snores. The lids were pried off each, and inside were the Chinese girls, heavily "doped" and slumbering peace-

Republican Caucus Committee, Ap-pointed to Form a Legislative Programme, Reports in Favor of Reissuing Greenbacks Only Exchange for Yellow Metal.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, May 23.—A special to the Herald from Washington says ad-vocates of currency reform are somewhat disappointed with the results of the deliberations of the Republican Caucus Committee, appointed to for-mulate a legislative programme. It had been hoped the members of this committee would agree upon a compre hensive scheme of currency and bank reform that would command the support of a majority in each house of Congress.

This committee was, however, confronted by the fact that whatever bill is carried through Congress must be put forward as a Republican party measure and must have the support of practically the entire Republican membership in the House, where the majority is very small.

There were disagreements among the members of the committee, and even those who were prepared to indorse the principal of the Indianapolis is carried through Congress must be those who were prepared to indorse the principal of the Indianapolis scheme were unable to get together as to details. The very moderate scheme agreed upon by the committeemen reports not only their judgment as to what they will be able to get through the house, but what they were able to agree upon themselves.

The programme, however, is generally looked upon as a step in the right direction. It proposes to adopt definitely the gold standard by enactiffy into positive law what is now largely a matter of construction and precedent, and making all the obligations of the country payable in gold on demand. The proposition to reissue greenbacks only in exchange for gold will, if enacted, destroy the "endless chain" and prevent the same greenbacks being used time after time to withdraw gold from the treasury.

"Only two proposals are made to inhe treasury.

rease the volume of national bank circulation. It is proposed to permit the banks to issue notes up to the par value of their bonds and to permit the establishment of banks of $25,000 capital in small towns. It is expected that the effect of this will lead to a considerable increase in national bank circulation, as it will tend to increase the profits on note issues.

The proposed authorization of banks of small capital in small towns is to meet the complaint of communities in the South and West, that they are compelled to do their banking in the large cities and that the profits the large ities and that the profits on this bus-ness are withdrawn from their neigh-

There is no possibility of any ideal financial legislation being enacted by the Fifty-sixth Congress, and it is not improbable that even the moderate measure proposed by the caucus committee will fail.

PASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT. CINCINNATI, May 23.—More than ten thosandu people crowded the La-tonia course today to see the Derby run. The weather was delightful, and the track in perfect shape. Prince Mc the track in perfect shape. Prince Mc-Clurg, the favorite, won the big event without a struggle. Deering was sec-ond, one length in front of Ways and Means, third, who was coupled in the betting with His Lordship as J. D. Smith's entry. The time was 2:38½. The winner's share of the purse amounts to $6925. Willie Beauchamp rode Prince McClurg, but it required no great effort on the boy's part to win. Prince McClurg was the best horse, and was running easily when Starter Chinn had a hard time get-ting the field lined up, and when the flag dropped, it was to a fair start only. Leo Planter at once shot to the front and opened up a gap of two lengths. His Lordship was second, a head in front of Eberhardt. The lat-ter moved up to the throat-latch of Leo Planter, and the two raced like a McPartland won the fight by the use of his wonderful left arm. It was serviceable from every conceivable position, and often, after planting it straight from the shoulder, he would withdraw it and whip it in at a close vange. While he was not at all times the pacemaker, he seemed always anxious to go to his man. Sullivan, on the other hand, demonstrated in the earlier rounds of the fight, that he wanted to end the contest with one punch from his right.

He swung it, crossed with it and hooked with it, but either failed to land with it or it was ineffective. Later in the fight he brought his left into use, and twice it came near winning him the contest. Sullivan was terribly punished. His face was badly cut, and he had lumps over both of his eyes. Mc-Partland, on the other hand, showed very little punishment, and came out unmarked and comparatively fresh.

The fourth opened very roughly. Sullivan forred, McPartland into his corner, where the latter slipped down, and when they were at it again McPartland rushed Sullivan across the ring and onto the ropes on the other side.

They both roughed it in the sixth seventh eighth and ninth rounds.

Sullivan was on the down grade in the tenth. McPartland beat him all over the ring and sent him down twice. Sullivan got up crying, and declared that he had been struck in the abdomen, but White ordered him to his corner.

English and Scotch Sailors Will Man the New Boat.
[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

BOSTON, May 23.—A dispatch to the Herald from Glasgow says the commanders, under officers and crew have been definitely selected for the Shamrock, and all told they will make fifty-one men. Archie Hogarth will be in charge with Capt. Wringe as assist-ant sailing master. E. W. Rowe, who was first mate of the Britannic, will be chief officer and Stewart, who was mate on the Astrild, will be second of-ficer, with Messrs. Croker and Living-ston, third and fourth officers, respectston, third and fourth officers, respectively. The other appointments are one boatswain, two boatswain's mates, two carpenters, two sailmakers, nine leading hands, including masthead and bowsprit end men, twenty-six ordinary seamen, two stewards and two cooks. A sizing-up of the crew shows twenty-nine English and twenty-one Scotch sailors. The selections were made from the best men available, so, except the name, which will be painted on the stein, there is nothing Irish about the craft, nor will there be an Irishman on board of her.

Neither Sir Lipton now the Royal Ulster Yacht Club people know definitely the exact day of the launching of the Shamrock, though, from good authority, it is stated it will be on June 5 or 6, just two days ahead of the Columbia.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.,) May 23. Without a dissenting vote, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church today accepted the report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures in favor of making no attempt this year at union with the church South. More than sixty overtures had been re ceived from the presbyteries request-ing that some action in the direction of union be taken. There has been much preliminary talk about the mat-

BISHOP WHIPPLE TALKS. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, May 23.-Rt. Rev. Dr. Henry Benjamin Whipple, Episcopal bishop of Minnesota, who has just re-turned from England, said to a Trib-turned from England, said to a Tribune reporter:

"The most remarkable thing I noticed in England was the friendly spirit manifested in every quarter to our country, and with it a great desire to learn more about the organization of the missionary work of our own branch of the church. There has been a good deal of talk in England and elsewhere about the crisis of the Church of England on questions of ritual. I believe that all this is to be settled by the wise counsels of the bishops. A council of advice was in session, presided over by the archbishops of Canterbury and York, to which all these questions were presented by representatives of the different schools, and I thought I detected in all minds a conviction that the goodly counsels and advice of the bishops would be followed. "But the question which was most prominent and of which I saw most was that connected with Christian work at home and abroad. I think that the great heart of England realizes, as ne reporter:

was that connected with Christian work at home and abroad. I think that the great heart of England realizes, as it has never realized before, that God has placed these English-speaking races in the forefront of humanity, representatives of constitutional government and Christian civilization, to carry their benefits to all the people of the earth, and underlying this desire for a closer relation with the United States was the thought that we had a common work and a common mission to do for humanity.

"There is a great deal of talk about the Peace Congress, but, so far as I could judge, the attitude was one of hopefulness that out of this meeting the horrors of war would be mitigated, if not entirely done away with. Educated Englishmen give the Czar of Russia considerable of the highest motives in proposing the conference."

tives in proposing the conference."

In response to any inquiry as to how the English clergy regarded the Briggs controversy, Bishop Whipple said they did not know anything about it. He said that he had not heard the subject mentioned. Asked about his own opinion of the Briggs case, he said:

"I have not read Dr. Briggs's book, and consequently cannot criticize it in-ion of the Briggs case, he said:

"I have not read Dr. Briggs's book, and consequently cannot criticize it intelligently, but I will say that I have the utmost confidence in Bishop Potter, whom I have known through all of his ministry. He never loses his head. In every fiber of his being he is loyal to his Master and to the church of which he is the chief shepherd.

"This question, which agitates so many minds, is not a new one. The Bible is a very wonderful book. It was 2000 years after the first chapter was written before it was finished. It was not gathered together until 1500 years after the last author died. During these years of its history, theories of medicine and government and science have been turned and overturned again and again. The Bible has been in the past and will be in the future the revelation of the gracious purposes of God to His children, and the story of his infinite love.

"There is a divine element of the sacred Scriptures which it is impossible for any human theory or human investigation to ever touch. Truth does not fear investigation, and I am sure that it will be in the future that not one iota of God's truth and His revelation can ever be affected by honest examination. Dr. Briggs has received much praise from scholars of different communions, even of the Roman Catholic church, and it is only fair to believe him when he declares that from his heart he accepts the creed and the doctrines of the church."

Bishop Whipple said that Indian arfairs, in which he has been interested for forty years, are in a more hopeful condition today than they have ever been before. The standard of government employes in the Indian service is much higher than formerly, and the department at Washington exhibits a deep interest in the work.

Those who desire to obtain it in full can do so by sending to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce at Washington: The report states that the walnut industry is on the decline in Austria. No regular walnut groves are planted there. Walnuts are not grown as a special industry. The price of land systems of the property of the uitable for walnuts ranges from $30 to $150 per acre. The yield per tree, at the age of 20, is from forty-four to sixty-six pounds, providing the soil is good and the tree healthy. Very little care is taken of the tree. The crop is usually gathered by children, who never receive more than 10 cents per day.

In the Havre, France, district most of the walnut trees are grown by the roadside, or in small numbers in the fields. At fifteen years the tree will give a remunerative crop. At fifty to sixty years a tree will yield about 220 pounds of nuts under favorable circumstances. Walnuts are sulphured for markets; laborers engaged in gathering and owing the same receive from 30 to 40 cents a day. The industry is at a standstill. The average yield is about 4,050,000 pounds. In this district prices range from 35 to $7 per 100 pounds to the producer.

In the Bordeaux district the walnut tree is cultivated the same as in the Havre district. The bearing quality is also the same. The crop last year was poor. They have no systematic method of handling the walnuts, but do a great deal of the work by hand. Agir average yield in this district is about 25,000 to 30,000 bags of 112 pounds, to the grower. The walnut region in the department of Grenoble is forty miles long and ten miles wide, and only a portion of this territory is planted to walnuts. Land here suitable for walnuts ranges from $300 to $600 per acre. Trees begin to bear when ten years old. Laborers receive from 30 to $60 cents per day and board. The industry is somewhat increased in this district each year. The best prices paid for walnuts here range from $\frac{1}{2}\text{to to the districts.}$ Very little cultivation is done. The only dangerous disease mentioned is a fungus growth.

All the Frame Buildings Destro

All the Frame Buildings Destroyed.

No Help Needed.

JEROME (Ariz.) May 20.—[Regular Correspondence.] For the third time in eighteen months Jerome's main business district has been destroyed by fire. The loss last September was practically complete. Yesterday there would have been five same result had the fire not been blocked in its passage by several large new fireproof structures, between which and the fire there had been cleared a space through the destruction of a number of frame buildings by dynamite. Several thousand men worked frantically for two hours to save the town. To a degree they succeeded, though water was almost entirely lacking. The great smelter, a half-mile up the cafion, was shut down, and its hundreds of employés were hurried down to the aid of the townspeople.

The fire was incendiar, as have been several fires that have lately been started, only to be readily extinguished before they gained headway. The blaze started in the Leland lodging-house at 10 a.m. Dr. E. T. Cody, whose office was in the house, found a bed ablaze in an inner room. He badly burned his hands in an attempt to extinguish the fiames, but soon was compelled to fly to save his life.

The burned district was not at the best an attractive locality, mainly comprising one storied frame, shanties. Of these nearly one hundred were swept away by the wave of fiame that passed along the hillside. Comor's hotel, a two-storied structure just completed, was gutted. It had eost $37,000, and was insured for $14,400. This is the only insurance known to have been carried in the camp. Insurance agents had little business with Jerome.

All but the walls of the new concrete saloon building lately finished by Hoover & Cordner was destroyed. The stock of Larkin's New York Store was ruined. The new four-story brick building of Miller & Co. escaped with slight damage. The postoffice and the new Masonic Hall were saved through the hardest of work. The total loss will approximate $70,000.

Dr. Cody was the only person reported injured. There was some drunkenness among the baser element that was prompt to take advantage of the liquor rolled out of the endangered saloons, but the police were active and efficient, every suspicious or troublesome character being promptly thrust into an improvised jail. Little loss from theft is reported.

THE GREAT AMERICAN SEAL.

It Has Never as Yet Been Finished on Its Reverse Side.

[Washington Star:] Half a dozen State Department clerks were talking about the war with Spain, and the signing of the treaty of peace. Incidentally the great seal of the United States was mentioned. The old clerk spoke up and the younger members of the group listened with interest, for when the old fellow talked, which was very seldom, his remarks were well worth hearing. "Speaking of the great seal," said he, "do any of you happen to know that the seal of our country is in an unfinished state? No? Well, I thought not," and the old clerk smiled patronizingly.

"In 1782, June 20 was the exact date, the continental Congress adopted a seal. This same seal was later adopted by the first Congress of the United States. Now, a design was adopted for both the obverse and reverse of the seal. With the former we are all familiar, or, ought to be, but the other remains uncut to this day. I don't know why it is so, and we have never heard any one attempt an explanation. The design adopted for the reverse of the seal is an unfinished pyramid. In the zenith there is an eye in a triangle, surrounded with a glory or sunburst. On the base of the pyramid appear the numerical letters, MDCCLXXVI. Over the eye are the words, 'Annuit coeptis,' and under the base, 'Novus ordo Seclorum.'

"The pyramid signifies strength and duration. The eye over it and the motto allude to the interpositions of Providence in favor ob the American cause. The date underneath is that of the declaration of independence, and the words under it signify the beginning of the new American era, which commenced from that date.

"Now, some of you young men who have plenty of time go to work and find out why the reverse of the seal of your country has not been cut, as provided for by Congress."

THE TIMES-Weekly Circulation Statement

Weekly Circulation Statement.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, S:
Personally appeared before me, Harry Chandler, vice-president and assistant general manager of the Times-Mirror Company, who, being duly sworn, deposes and rays that the daily hona-fide editions of The Times for each day of the week ended May 20, 1899, were as follows:

25, 20,

[Seal]
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

NOTE.—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The above aggregate, viz. 174,930 copies, issued by us during the seven days of the past week, would, if apportioned on the basis of a six-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 29,155 copies.

THE TIMES is the only Los Ange the TIMES is the only los American less paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CONCULTION of the medium which have the right to know the MATCIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time; and it furthermore guarantees that the circulation of TIMES regularly exceeds the Los Angeles daily newspapers.

GARVANZA ANNEXED.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC ATTEMPTS . TO DEFEAT THE PROJECT.

Annexation Because it Means Reduction of Car

Combination Between the Railroad and the Park Gamblers to De-feat the Wishes of the Citizens of University.

Stuffers at Agricultural Park to

The election which was held yesterday in this city and Garvanza for the annexation of the latter section to Los Angeles proved rather exciting in a limited field, and forced the opposition to annexation to show their hands for the election today for the annexation of the University, which will probably be a much hotter contest. It had been supposed that he annexation of Garvanza would be made with out opposition, but yesterday morning the fact developed that the Pasadens and Los Angeles Electric Railway Company, which has affiliations with the Southern Pacific Company, had the latter company's heelers out on a still hunt to defeat the annexation, and that the railroad had formed a union with each was to do all in its power to de-feat both annexation projects. It seems that the opposition of the rail-road company is due to the fact that if Garvanza is annexed the company will be forced to give a 5-cent fare from that section to any point in the city. The Agricultural Park people are anxious to keep the park outside of the city, because, if brought in, the city would place restrictions on the gambling and liquor selling which now draws bigs crowds there every Sunday. The ward heelers were brought out early yesterday morning and worked hard all day in a quiet way. One of these men made the statement that he had been given $10 for yerterday's work, and had been promised $20 for the work he is expected to do today, showing the $10 gold piece in proof of his assertion, and adding that it was more money than he had made for many days before.

The vote in the Seventh Ward, where the railroad employés mostly live, while light in total, showed the effect of the work, in a heavy majority against annexation, but this was not enough to defeat the project.

At Garvanza the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of annexation, the property-owners there being a unit in favor of coming into the city.

The election of yesterday shows the indications for the one to be held today for the annexation of University. It is now known that the street railroad and the Southern Pacific are in league with the Agricultural Park people, and and now that they are a known quantity they will probably fight openly today, instead of secretly as yesterday. It is learned that four of the conductors on the street railway who live in University have been given a furlough for the past few days to enable them to devote all their time in influencing voters against the annexation of the University.

against the annexation of the University.

It is known that over one hundred voters registered from the University are not bona fide residents of that precinct. Many of these men have been run down by detectives employed by the Good Government Society at University, and they will be arrested today if they undertake to swear in their votes.

otes. In only three wards of the city was In only three wards of the city was a majority of the votes cast yesterday against the annexation proposition. The reason for the result in the Seventh Ward, as has been stated, is thought to be the opposition of the Southern Pacific and other corporations owned by it, among them the street-railway company. The largest majority against the annexation was cast in the Eighth Ward, and this is due to the causes that led the Seventh to go against it, and to the fact that the Democrats, late in the day, awoke to the realization of the fact that Garvanza is made up largely of Republican families, and its admission would therefore greatly reduce the chances of a Democratic nominee in future city elections. Their effort resulted in getting. would therefore greatly reduce the chances of a Democratic nominee in future city elections. Their effort resulted in getting out many votes against the proposition, but not nearly enough to defeat it, for the reason that they began work too late in the day, and that there were not enough votes available in the ward, at the command of either the Southern Pacific or of the Democrats, to change the result. The reason for the result in the Ninth Ward, where a majority of seven was cast against annexation, is supposed to be the opposition of the Southern Pacific, represented in the Los Angeles Railway Company, to the proposition. In that ward there are a large number of employes of the latter company, and if the word was given to them to vote against annexation, it is reasonable to suppose that they obeyed orders. From the officers of election in that ward it was learned that a large number of the street-railway employes voted. In all the other wards a majority was cast in favor of annexation. The vote by wards was as follows:

For. Against.

For. Against 624

AT GARVANZA. Citizens Rejoice and Have Bonfire

and Firecrackers. The 800 or 900 citizens of Garvanza celebrated the victory of the election last evening with bonfire and fire-crackers. The vote polled was 69 to 8 in Garvanza, in favor of annexation. the vote, however, not showing the full strength of the district, as many of the citizens have business in Los Ange-les, which they did not feel like neg-lecting when the result of the election seemed certain. 'The district annexed to the city lies between Los Angeles and Pasadena, being about six miles from the Plaza in Los Angeles. It includes about three-quarters of a square mile, its greatest length being about a mile. The district is traversed by the Santa Fé, Pasadena and Terminal railroads, thus adding considerable railroad mileage to the city for taxation. The dwelling houses are neat cottages, which rank with those of this city, though widely scattered, leaving possibility for considerable growth of population in the territory. The price of the land is comparatively low. Garvanza has a fine school building of four rooms, with four teachers, in which nine grades are taught, and a year ago the district paid off its last dollar of indebtedness, the annexation thus bringing in assets not diminished by liabilities. At the present time there is $1500 in the district school fund. There is a hotel, several business houses, a Methodist and a Seventh Day Adventist church in the district, while a beautiful Episcopal church is situated just outside of the district annexed. The district is peopled, generally, with those having business in Los Angeles, and who make daily trips to their work. They consider the reduced street-car fare, which is sure to come, a very desirable feature of the annexation.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind Yeu Have Always Bought

PREPARING FOR BATTLE.

Citizens of University Hold Their Last Meeting.

The citizens of University held an enthusiastic meeting last evening to close the campaign. President George W. White of the University of Southern California presided.

M. J. Hall reported the work which had been done toward securing the annulment of the license of the park by the Supervisors, and George M. Smith made a stirring speech, setting forth the advantages of annexation. It forth the advantages of annexation. It was stated during the meeting that from fifty to one hundred men were to camp at the park last evening and make a rush for the polls as soon as they open at sunrise, 4:4 o'clock, this morning. As an offset to this project, it was arranged that Attorney Bowen should be at the polls at that time with three deputy sheriffs to prevent fraudulent voting.

While the manager of the park has admitted that there are about a hundred men employed at the park, and by inference that they will vote against annexation, there has been no occular evidence of the fact, and when a reporter made a tour through the park last evening, nowhere near so many men were in sight. If they were there last night, they made their appearance on the ground at a late hour.

The voting places for today's elec-tion to determine whether the Univertion to determine whether the University precinct is to be annexed or not will be the same as those of yesterday, with the exception that there will be a polling place in the University precinct instead of in Garvanza. Of course, the people of Garvanza will not vote at today's election. On Monday afternoon a suave Mongolian called at the jail to see his "fliend." Ah Fong, who is serving a term for selling lottery tickets. The visitor gave the jailer a package of fine-cut tobacco to hand to Ah Fong. Jailer Cleqtte, on examining the "baccy," found two large chunks of yen she (second-hand opium) carefully wrapped in in the weed. The visiting Chinaman was badly scared when his trick was exposed, and was glad to get out of the jail unassisted by the toe of the jailer's boot, which he was informed would be his fate if he ever dared to come back.

SICK AND DELIBIOUS. Mrs. Greenough, Accused of Theft,

is in a Critical Condition. Mrs. Jennie Greenough, who is accused of several petty thefts by her sister Maccabees, is lying in a critical condition at her home near the corner of Tenth street and Denver avenue. In addition to her serious sickness, the present indications are that she is suffering from temporary insanity, but whether her unfortunate condition is wholly the result of her recent troubles, or whether her mind had previously become affected and is responsible for or whether her mind had previously become affected and is responsible for her alleged kleptomania, her friends are at a loss to determine. She was delirious the greater part of the time yesterday, but during a seemingly lucid interval the subject of her troubles with Banner Hive was mentioned, and she asked blankly: "Have they issued a complaint against me?" A moment later her mind wandered again, and she raved about women who sought to take her life.

One woman who was caring for Mra. Greenough yesterday says that the latter has always been regarded as a woman of high principles, and that if she really committed the thefts of which she is accused her mind must have been temporarily unbalanced. During one of her rational moments yesterday she asked her attendants if they thought she was losing her mind, and when told that she would soon be better, she declared that she did not care to live.

A complaint has been issued against Mrs. Greenough, and is in the hands of the officers, but has not yet been served on account of her precarious condition.

REMEMBER the needy. Save your castoff clothing, beds, bedding or stoves, for poor families of the city. A request is also made for shoes and clothing for poor children to enable them to go to school. Dropa card to Capt. J. A. Frazier, northwest corner Los Angeles and Seventh streats, and he will call for anything you have to donate.

IV.-MURILLO.

SPAIN'S KING OF RELIGIOUS

By Arthur Lincoln Frothingham, Jr., Ph. D Perhaps in consequence of the social standing given him by his marriage and his own success his house became a center for the artistic and most intelligent society of Seville. Murillo's undeviating kindness, tact and sweetness of manner made him a general fa-vorite; his piety advanced him with the clergy and monastic orders, and his close friendship with influential the reputation he had already acquired in 1655 may be gained by the statement of the chapter of the cathedral that he was the best painter in Seville. He was the best painter in Seville. He appears to have been lacking in the ambition to shine personally; preferred his family and home life to public eclat; loved his native city and its middle classes, refusing to leave it for the attractions of the capital. Even when in 1660 he succeeded, after repeated efforts, in founding the academy of painting in Seville, he evidently did it rather for the benefit of the younger artists and the advancement of his art than for his own profit, as he resigned its presidency after the first year. His life, therefore, was uneventful. It was passed quietly and laboriously in a limited world in which nothing unusual ever happened. Its phases are marked merely by the chronology of his principal dated and skillful composition, without the exaggeration of his later, or the at times incongrous realism of his earlier religious works. He painted at the same time for the cathedrai his largest canvas—5.50x3.30 meters—representing the infant Christ appearing to St. Antony of Padua, one of his most celebrated works. Almost immediately after this (1656) he commenced his series of four semi-circular pictures for the Church of Santa Maria la Blanca, in which he showed a closer agreement with the effects of composition, mass and color of the great Venetians. In 1665 Murillo became a member of the Brotherhood of the Hospital of La Caritad and was called upon to execute (1670-74) eight large pictures for the walls of its church. They are among his noblest and most monumental works, the most admired being, perhaps, the scene of St. Elizabeth of Hungary ministering to the infirm. Those scenes which are taken from the Old and New Testaof St. Elizabeth of Hungary ministering to the infirm. Those scenes which are taken from the Old and New Testaments are the Spanish counterparts of the great series of wall paintings by Perugino, Botticelli and the rest in the Sistine chapel in Rome, Murillo then began his last great group of pictures, that in the Capuchin Church, which were completed in 1676. Over the high altar was the "Immaculate Conception," between the altar and the nave was the great screen, 30x25 feet, formed of ten paintings, and at the ends of the side aisles and at the chapel altars were ten other paintings. Of them all the most characteristic and the one which Murillo called his very own picture, was that of "St. Thomas of Villanuers, and the Bergary" in an architance.

RAIN-MAKERS, MOVE ON! "Flee Unto the Mountains of Hepsi-

dam, Where the Lion Roareth."
INGLEWOOD, May 22, 1899.—[To the Editor of The Times: I read with great interest the letters of yesterday's Pimes by W. E. Hughes and W. Carpenter, referring to a rainmaking experiment, and as I believe the subject is one which should be well-considered, in the interests of all concerned, would like to state the farmer's view ered, in the interests of all concerned, I would like to state the farmer's view of the case, at least in this section, and at this particular time.

Mr. Carpenter is right when he says there are other interests to be considered besides the fruit-growers; and Mr. Hughes is wrong when he undertakes to compare our conditions and methods of farming here with those in the East. With all due respect to Mr. Hughes, we California farmers would ask him to remember that conditions here and in the East are very different, and in no respect more so than in the different methods of farming; and we would respectfully ask that gentleman not to expect us to accept a condition which is the very thing which is forcing our Eastern cousin to come to California, and which, for obvious reasons, we are less able to cope with than he; namely, rain during harvest. Ask any farmer what that means, and he will inform you in very forcible language. Most of the farmers in the East can place what they raise under shelter, or have not so much but that they can turn it over in time of rain to save it from spolling, or shock it up so that rain will not injure it. Then there is a vast difference in taking care of an eighty-acre field and one of a thousand acres or more. Rain at this time would entail great extra expense in handling the crop, besides lodging grain that is now almost ready to head, and reducing the value of the hay crop fully one-third.

There is no doubt about the value of the project if carried to a successful issue; but there is a time and a place for everything, and we farmers claim that this is not the time, though we have grevious reasons to admit that this is the place some times. Let them make their experiments at a time when there will be no damage to hay or grain. I understand that the precipitation can be confined to a more or less limited area, and would suggest that it be limited to the

Irrigation is what the orchardists want. Rain would be of little use to them now, unless very heavy and long con-tinued, so as to insure a plentiful sup-tinued, so as to insure a plentiful sup-now, unless very heavy and long continued, so as to insure a plentiful supply of irrigating water for the future, and no greater calamity cauld befall the farmers of this section than such a rain coming before the 1st of August.

Do not think that we farmers are pnaware of the great benefits to be derived by being able to produce rain when needed. The rain question is more vital to us than any other, and no one would rejoice more than the poor pumpkin-roller if the rainmaking experiments prove a success. Let the good work go on by all means, and we

PROFITS FROM COLONIES.

Apart from the political, social and philanthropic sides of the question of territorial expansion, which will, undoubtedly, be settled by the patriotic and intelligent majority of the Ameriis the more material question, as to the prospective advantage, or other-

"3. Will our foreign purchases diminished, and shall we be enabled to expend among our own people any considerable share of the money which we have hitherto expended abroad?"

In regard to the first question, Mr.

Austin thinks there can be no reasonable doubt that an increase in our sales to the islands would result. The British colonies take, on an average,

42 per cent, of their imports from the mother country, and this in spite of the fact that many of them lie at great distances from England, and are more conveniently located for commerce with other countries. The other countries of the world, aside from the colonies, take but 15 per cent. of their total importations from Great Britain. In regard to the sec ond question, Mr. Austin shows that the annual imports of the countries commercially adjacent to Manila, as a point of distribution, amount to about

$1,066,000,000 per annum, a sum which nearly equals our own magnificent achievement in the total exportations during the year just ended. Of the $1,066,000,000 worth of goods which the countries within easy reach of Manila as a point of distribution now annually import, we supply but 5.3 per cent. Yet the large proportion of these vast imports is made up of the class of goods which we can sup-

As to the third question, it is shown, in the article referred to, that our expenditure for the class of arti-

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY. The eightieth anniversary of Queen Victoria's birth will be celebrated today, throughout Great Britain and her colonies, in a becoming manner by a loyal people. The day will also be observed quite generally throughout the United States by people of English birth, assisted in many cases by Americans, as a mark of admiration and esteem for one of the greatest and best of sovereigns. The world has witnessed many marvelous changes since Queen Vic toria ascended the English throne in 1837, at the age of 18 years. Civilization has undergone many radical transformations since that time, and the human race has made wonderful strides in the line of advancement. Most of the great modern utilitiesthe steamship, the railway, the telegraph, the telephone, the electric dynamo, have either been discovered or greatly developed since the beginning of her reign. The world had moved and is moving rapidly. The span of a single year of the present time is often more prolific of great achievements than a decade, or a score of years, in the early part of the cen-The world moves, and men move with it.

The "Victorian era" will go down history as the most brilliant, all things considered, in the history the British Empire. In literature, its achievements have been superb; in science and the arts they have been sublime; in applied mechanics they have been unapproachable.

The reign of Queen Victoria been a most beneficent one, and un-der it the English nation has prospered and grown strong, to an extent that is truly marvelous. The sails of English commerce whiten every sea. The warships of the great English navy are seen in every port, and compel respect wherever they are seen. Britannia rules the wave" in fact as well as in sentiment. The growth of English prowess and prestige during the two generations last past has been equaled only by the springing into national greatness of her "mighty daughter of the West," the United States of America. And these two nations are one, in kinship, in a common language, in similarity of laws customs, and religion, in sympathies and aspirations, and destiny. the prowess, the prestige, the great ness, of the English nation are in part our own.

Americans reverence the Queen on unright, humane, firm, vet gentle ruler, beloved of her own people and respected by alien powers. We claim some rightful place in the rejoicings of this anniversary of the natal day of the Good Queen. STOP THE SCORCHING.

The recently-organized local con-sulate of the LA.W. did well, at its meeting on Monday evening, in adopt ing a resolution requesting the police authorities to take steps for the arrest and punishment of bicyclists who ride through the streets at a faster pace than the law permits. This is a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that the recommendation will be given proper attention by the authorities. The evil complained of is a prolific source of accidents and of danger. The reckless bicyclist endangers not only his own life, but that of every person who uses the streets. It is time to call a halt in his mad career, and to call it in such manner that there will be no sort of doubt as to the meaning of the man-

The ordinance permits a speed of eight miles per hour on the streets between crossings, and four miles per hour at the crossings. This is as high a rate of speed as is safe in the central portions of the city, and the provisions of the law should be enforced rigidly and impartially. In the less busy streets, away from the business center, a higher rate of speed might safely be permitted. Ten. twelve, and fifteen miles per hour are safer rates of speed on the outlying streets than eight miles in the business sections. It might be well for the Council to amend the ordinance, so as to permit varying rates of speed within prescribed districts. If the law is to be enforced, as it ought to be, the highest rate of speed consistent with safety should be permitted on all streets. An amendment of the ordinance this direction would therefore seem to

While the police authorities are in the business of enforcing the law against the fast riding of bicycles on the streets, they should the habitual violations of law by persons other than bicyclists. Drivers of all kinds of vehicles violate the lav every day in the year. Especially is this true of that part of the ordinance which limits the speed at street intersections to four miles per hour. That clause is oftener violated than obeyed, by many drivers, who across intersecting streets at a rapid pace, to the great danger of everybody on the streets in their vicinity. This sort of thing should be stopped, at once. There is even more danger to the public from fast driving than from fast bicycle riding. The bicyclist can make a quick turn to avoid a collision, and is not very liable to run a pedestrian down unless the pedestrian attempts to dodge him. But the fast driver is seldom an artful dodger, and pedestrians who are not expert in that line are in constant danger. Another persistent violator of the law is the trolley car, which frequently crosses intersecting streets at dangerous rate of speed-though this offense is not often committed. perhaps, in the central business sec tion of the city. If the existing ordinances regulating the speed of troller cars are defective or ambiguous, the defects and ambiguities should be remedied by the Council as soon as possible, and the law should then be enforced. Several accidents, within from the too fast running of troller cars. Los Angeles is no longer a country village. It is a large and busy city. Its streets are crowded during a considerable part of the day, and in order to insure the safety of all users of the streets, so far as possible, the speed of all classes of vehicles should be regulated by wellconsidered ordinances, impartially

The wheelmen's organization will win the gratitude and the respect of the public at large if it will take hold of this matter in earnest, and keep hold of it until a satisfactory conclusion has been reached.

ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES.

It is interesting to not on this eightieth anniversary of Victoria's birth, that the United States and England, having been for a short time closely allied in an incipient war, of a miniature description, out in the Pa cific, are now closely affiliated, in aim and purpose, at the peace conference which has met at the invitation of the Czar of Russia, in Holland, The entente which exists between the representatives of this country and those of Great Britain at The Hague have aroused much comment, and some criticism, from the other European powers. Both this country and Great Britain are endeavoring to secure the consideration of a broad and practical plan of arbitration between nations and both countries also insist on the desirability of considering the sub ject of lessening the sufferings which war, even between civilized nations must always bring in its train. far, no great amount of sympathy has apparently been extended to these views from any other great nations represented at the conerence, notwithstanding which, the views of the two great English-speaking nations will, undoubtedly, have much weight.

Whether or not we shall ever see and Great Britain, there can be no doubt that, from now on, the influence of both will run largely in the same lines, both in war and peace. the world has anything to fear-but rather everything to gain-from such sympathy between these two great pioneers of civilization no man will maintain who understands the true instinct of the intelligent masses, comprising the population of the United

We ought to have a great big celebration of the glorious Fourth this year, and it is not too early to begin to make preparations accordingly.

AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The fourth annual report of the chairman of the Executive Committee of the New York State Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women, recently published, shows a very satisfactory condition of the work of the association. The report notes, especially, a great development of the inter-State movement, and refers to the results accomplished in the States of Washington and South Dakota, where a representative sent from New York was largely instrumental in defeating constitutional amendments imposing suffrage upon This association includes in its membership and on its committees such women as Mrs. Cornelius R. Agnew, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder, Mrs. H. Greer, Mrs. Abram S. Hewitt, Mrs. Trenor L. Park, Mrs. Henry Seligman Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, and others of like prominence. These women, foreseeing the burdens and the dangers which threatened women of this country through the ill-advised efforts of an obstreperous few to secure suffrage for them, have-reluctantly, because of the publicity it involves, but with a determination that tells-taken up the work of defending their sex this evil. They are advocates, every one of them, of all the means and movements of the day that tend to the real development of what is best in woman, to the real advancement of the sex, and it is for this very reason that they have ar mselves against the woman suffrage movement, the success of which, they are wise enough to see means degradation instead of eleva-

A little boy was killed by a trolley car last Sunday in San Francisco because the car was running at a rate of speed in excess of that permitted by law, and because the car was not provided with a fender. Such things have happened all too frequently in Los Angeles for the same reasons The speed ordinance should be rigidly enforced and the car lines should at ence be compelled to outfit their cars with the very best type of fender obtainable. Delays are dangerous, not only to the public but to the corporations which, sooner or later will have to pay big bills of damages. Let us have the cars properly equipped and let them be operated at a speed rate within the law. This is a demand that the public has a right, through the City Council, to make.

LOS ANGELES THEATER. While on a million planos and set millions of feet moving in stately rhythm upon nights of pleasure at the ball, and "Mira, O Norma," whose delicious strains are fragrant with the memory of voices long since stilled—are familian to even the musical novice, yet to the modern opera-goer Bellini's splendid creation as a whole is quite altogether new. As for ithis city, while the writer has not at hand a record of all per-formances of grand opera given here, it is safe to say that the full score was it is safe to say that the full score was never heard in a local theater until last night. So beautifully was this moving musical presented that it were surely worth waiting for, for there was in the cast for the first time the statuesquely beautiful and stately Adalgia Rossi, a queen of the drama as it would seem, as well as of song; the delightfully voiced Sostegni, who, in the short space of ten days has won the short space of ten days, has won the plaudits and esteem of the musical the plaudits and esteem of the musical public of Los Angeles; the virile and splendid tenor, Fernando Avedano, and the great voiced Travaglina, whose rich and resonant basso is like the swelling tones of the organ whose keys are swept by the hands of a mastir—surely with such a quartette of artists as this the rendering of Bellini's masterpiece of musical composition was a gala event.

It is close upon a century ago that Vicenzo Bellini was born, he having come into the world at Catania, in Sicily, in the year 1802. His first important work, "Bianca e Ternando," was brought out when its composer was but 24 years of age, and although he died in his twenty-ninth year, he followed that with several minor uncesses and in his twenty-ninth year, he followed that with several minor successes, and three operas that have achieved immortality in the world of music—the opera which we heard so glorlously sung last night, "Norma." "La Somnambula" and "Puritani." The world's greatest singers have set their voices to the elucidation of Bellini's score, and when we, who today harken to his melodious phrases, are but dust and ashes, singers as yet unborn will be singing with angelic voices to ears that shall listen in rapture and delight.

Signorina Rossi, who made her initial appearance last evening as Norma, the Druid high priestess, has a splendid method and a voice that is great in volume, as well as charmingly true. Like all the singers of the Lambardi company, there is a clear absence of effort, an easy grace, and a sureness of manner in her singing that adds immeasurably to the attractiveness of the singer's art. As remarked at the outset, Signorina Rossi has an average.

manner in her singing that adds immeasurably to the attractiveness of the singer's art. As remarked at the outset, Signorina Rossi has an excellent stage presence, and to all her other charms, adds that of a beautiful face, a pair of liquid dark eyes, and a physique that shows capacity, power and force. She was received with great enthusiasm and scored an unmistakable triumph.

The great Sostegni was in splendid voice, and achieved her usual reward of applause laid on in generous measure. In the duets with Signorina Rossi her mezzo tones were the very apotheosis of melting melody. The contrast between these two superb voices was brought out again and again, but not to the discredit of either, for both are beautiful—that, of Rossi's high, full, resonant and sweet, and that of the lissome Sostegni velvety, pure, moist with the mist of tears. To hear two such voices joined in concert is a rare treat, that last night's fine audience enjoyed to the full. The work of the chorus was uneven and at times woefully diaggy and ragged, particularly in the first act, but there was a vast improvement in this regard in the later scenes. All in all, it was a gala night that those so fortunate as to be present will long remember with keen delight.

VICTORIA, REGINA.

EIGHTY YEARS OF GREAT BRIT.

Mighty Era of Mighty Men

Eighty years Alexandria Victoria has lived, and sixty of these years she has reigned over the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. Fourscore years of life! A period ten years longer than the Hebrew Psalmist allotted as the span of human life, and of which he said that though one do come to four-score years, life is but labor and sor-row. Yet for sixty-two years of these years Victoria has been Queen of one of the mightiest monarchies the earth has ever held on its surface. It is the longest reign on record in the annals of longest reign on record in the annals of time, and it covers a period of more development in human history than any century that has preceded it. Gladstone says that in the first fifty years of the century just closing the growth of material wealth in England was greater than in the nineteen preceding centuries from the Roman invasion under Caesar. What, then, shall be said of the second half of this century pregnant with such mighty events?

England had been preparing for the progress that has marked the reign of England had been preparing for the progress that has marked the reign of Victoria. Three years before her birth the Iron Duke had smashed the legions of France to pieces at Waterloo, and sent Napoleon to St. Helena, thus securing piece to Europe. In the interval between the end of Napoleon's career and the accession of the young Queen to the crown, great reforms in political had been wrought out. Pitt's work had been wrought out. Pitt's work had been followed by Peel's and his by Canning's. In 1830 the reform of Parliament was carried out, which mad the great middle class the dominan nfluence in the government. In 1834 William VI, frightened at the length to which reform was being carried dismissed Lord Grey and the rest of the dismissed Lord Grey and the rest of the liberal ministry and recalled. Peel. This was the last instance in which the crown changed the ministry. As 200 years before the veto of an act of Parliament cost Charles I his head, and no English monarch since that time has exercised the right of veto. So no monarch since 1834 has dismissed tha ministry. That function now is inherent in the House of Commons. OTHER PREPARATORY INFLU-

But for a generation other influences of great power had been at work on the English mind. Powerful leaven was working in the hearts and minds of men. Gibbon had written the history of Rome, and Hume had published his working in the hearts and minus of Rome, and Hume had published his history of England. This latter work was reactionary, and intended to save a little the doctrine of the divine rights of kings against the new democracy. But its influence was many times offset by Scott's verse and prose, who died while Victoria was learning her Latin under the tuition of Baroness Selwyn. Byron had passed away eight years before Scott, leaving the world "Childe Harold," and the "Vision of Judgment." Tom More, Wordsworth, Macauley, Hallom and De Quincy continued the work during the early years of the Queen's reign. Outside of the field of "polite literature" Hugh Miller, Herschel, Tyndal, Lyell, Faraday, Huxley and others, during the girlhood and early reign of Victoria, were stirring men's minds with scientific researches.

PHYSICAL FORCES.
July 15, 1819, the Savana, a little steamer of 350 tons, built by Robert Fulton in New York, made the passage to Liverpool in twenty-nine days. Victoria was then a little more than 2 years old. In 1840 the first Cunarder crossed the ocean. The young Queen's reign was then a little more than three years old. September 15, 1830, while Victoria was in the schoolroom, George Stephenson ran his first locomotive from Liverpool to Manchester. Sixteen years before the Times newspaper had been first printed, November 28, 1814, on a power press, which printed one side at the rate of 1800 an hour. Morse, in PHYSICAL FORCES. been first printed, November 28, 1814, on a power press, which printed one side at the rate of 1800 an hour. Morse, in 1836, constructed the first telegraphic machine that would transmit thought at all. In 1844, May 24, the young Queen's birthday, Morse sent his first message between Baltimore and Wash-ington. In the year that Morse made his first success, 1826, Sir Rowland Hill began his agitation for penny postage. In 1842, two years before Masse knew his immortal invention was to live, Hill got his penny postage bill through Parliament.

Parliament.

How these great names and great achievements crowd upon the mind. The printing press, the steamship, the locomotive, the telegraph all born almost simultaneously with Victoria, or with her reign! The "Lady of the Lake" and "The Heart of Midlothian," "Childe Hasoid" and "The Corsair," "The Lays of Ancient Rome," and the "History of the Middle Ages," De Quincey's Essays and "Lectures on the Four Georges," "The Testimony of Rocks," Tyndal's "Conservation of Porces," Hymbolic stances of the Quincey's Essays and "Lectures on the Four Georges," "The Testimony of Rocks." Tyndal's "Conservation of Forces," Herschel's discoveries in astronomy, Faraday's profound researches in chemistry, and Huxley's in physiology, all coming like leaves on Valambrosia's stream from the newly-invented printing press, and all forcing their leaven into the life of the generation of Englishmen, who grew up with the young Queen!

Just in these opening years of the Queen's life and reign appeared in the quiet shades of Oxford University, a locomotive, the telegraph and the penny postage shook commercial and industrial England. The old fox-hunting clergy were to go to the Limbo of things lost from earth where the old hand press had gone. Edward Boverie Pasey gathered around him Newman, Manning, Keble, and Hugh James Rose. He shook the church to its very foundations. They shook English society within and without the church. They found many a Lady Clara Vere de Vere like the one Tennyson knew and wrote:

and wrote:

1 know you, Clara Vere de Vere. You pine among your halls and towers;
The languid light of your proud eyes is weary of the rolling hours;
And they said to these sickening of a vague disease.

And they said to these sickening of a vague disease, Are there no beggars at your gates, nor any poor about your lands?
Oh! teach the orphan boy to read, and teach the orphan girl to sw.
So came the reform poor laws and the repeal of the corn laws. So came sunny, ventilated, cleanly houses for the laboring classes of England.
William Ewart Gladstone went into Parliament in 1833, four years before Victoria became Queen. He was in public life until he passed away a year or two ago. He was Victoria's senior by ten years. He was easily the principal one of those of whom Tennyson sings:
And statesmen at her council met

ings:
And statesmen at her council met
Who knew the seasons, when to take Occasion by the hand and make
The bounds of freedom wider yet,
By shaping some august decree.
Which kept her throne unshaken still,
Broad based upon the people's will,
And compassed by the inviolate sea.
Just as the Queen was about to step upon the throne the Chartist riots threatened to shafe it from beneath her feet. While she was still little skilled in statecraft came the war with Russia, and on the heels of that the saved, broad-based upon the people's will, and guarded by English valor, led by English brains. Elizabeth's glorious reign is scarcely less brilliant in literature, nor Ann's in military achievement. While in science and the peaceful victories of science, no monarchs reign can compare to this one. The Prince Consort in his lifetime, and the Queen still have been contemplators of all these wonderful achievements of their subjects in this wonderful era, rather than active participators in any of it. But it is much to their praise that they always entered with enthusiasm even into the spirit of their time, and by all means encouraged all that was best in its wonderful activities.

There were no years nor periods barren in this long reign. As Scott passed away Tennyson came on. As Macauley ceased to write, Green went or with the work of penning English history. When Miller and Lyell had lost their vigor. Darwin sprang into the vacant place with the strength of an intellectual giant. Mills and Buckle and Spencer kept the minds of their countrymen alert. Carile's caustic pen prevented any vold when De Quincey ceased to write.

Over the arch of one of the great transepts in Westminster, where the once mighty men of England are burled, is this legend: "Here sleep the men who kept the world awake."

These men of the glorious reign of Victoria have certainly kept things pretty lively. It was said of Elizabeth that she was not exactly great herself, but that she knew how to collect great men about her, and make them do her bidding. This is not quite true of Victoria. But she has insight into the character of great men. She has encouraged them to come to her, and she has put no obstacles in their way in reaching their great ends.

Things are changed in 300 years, and the nowers exercised by Queen Bess would not be tolerated in Victoria. Those powers are now put in the hands of great men, who are the real governors of England. G. W. BURTON.

The last symphony concert of the season was given yesterday after-noon, and its conspicuous artistic success was manifest evidence of what six months of steady training has done cess was manifest evidence of what six months of steady training has done for the members of the orchestra. The slight drag that usually mars the first number was less noticeable than at any concert of the series, for the musicians warmed to their work at once, and entered well into the spirit of Wagner in the excerpts from "Lohengrin." As there were two soloists, the recitative and aria from Weber's opera, "Der Freischutz," sung by Mrs. Genevra Johnstone-Bishop, was placed second on the programme. Mrs. Bishop was in good voice, and her stinging was marked by the usual characteristics that distinguish her methods. After she had responded to an encore, Bruch's "Scotch Fantaisie" for violin and orchestra, was played by Herr Arnold Krauss, in his best manner. In the adagio and andante movements, there was a rich, full, sympathetic quality of tone, and in the allegro and finale Herr Krauss's masterly technique was beautifully in evidence. A most cordial welcome was accorded this musicianly artist, and at the colse of his number, in response to enthusiastic and well-merited applause, Herr Krauss's masterly technique was responded with Handel's delicious "Largo," in which the dreamy thoughtfulness, the dignified repose was treated with scholarly refinement and delicate tenderness. The support of the orchestra in each number was all that it should have been, and the exceptionally good work of Miss Phelps at the harp in the Fantaisie was worthy of especial note. The delicate grace and beauty of Schubert's B minor symphony, "Unfinished," was particularly well brought out; indeed, the orchestra has at no time, either this season or last, done better nor more sustained good work than in its treatment of both movements, and Director Hamilton's reading was in full sympathy with the subtle beauties of the score. The programme closed with a brilliant rendition of Rossini's "William Tell" overture, and at the end of the last concert of the season the immense audience which packed the theater to the roof, gave such unmistakable signs of its entire approval and frankly expressed apprec

Afterney Brooks Says His Client's Life is in Danger.

Attorney J. Marion Brooks said last night that the woman who recently arrived from Alsace, claiming to be the original wife of Theodore Bauer, the original wife of Theodore Bauer, the ex-champion wrestler, yesterday afternoon made threats against the latter's life. According to brooks, who is Bauer's attorney, the woman called at his office early in the afternoon in an excited frame of mind, but after a few words, was ejected by him. She then, he says, went to the office of Louis Schmidt, who sometimes acts as interpreter for Brooks, when he has a French or German client, where she made threats against Bauer's life. The woman had a photograph of the deceased Mrs. Bauer, which, it is alleged, she mutilated with a knife, and intimated that Bauer would meet the same fate.

she mutilated with a knife, and intimated that Bauer would meet the same fate.

The woman whom Bauer claimed as his wife died about a year ago, leaving an estate variously estimated to be worth between $50,000 and $75,000, which was left to Bauer. As the latter was considered incompetent to handle the property, Attorney Brooks had Chris Buckley appointed trustee of the estate, and Bauer receives a monthly income. At the time of Mrs. Bauer's death the estate was heavily mortgaged, but the incumbrance was recently vaised by the trustees.

Attorney Brooks professes to believe that Bauer's life is really in danger. He says that he will take steps this morning to have a complaint issued against the woman on a charge of making threats to kill, and have her placed under bonds to keep the peace.

in San Francisco.

Reed was a hanger-on at the City Hall, being employed there from time to time as a deputy assessor or other supernumerary as his political fortunes waxed or waned. Latterly they were mostly on the wane, and he is alleged to have stood off his landlady. Mrs. Frank Lindenfeld, for his rent until his arrearages amounted to $65, according to her computation.

About noon Monday Mrs. Lindenfeld called at police headquarters in great perturbation of mind, and informed the minions of the law that she had just learned that Reed had his trunk checked to San Francisco, and intended to leave on the 12:30 o'clock train without settling up, as he had soiemnly promised to do that very day. Mrs. Lindenfeld said, further, that Reed had informed her that he would receive his portion of an estate on Monday morning, out of the proceeds of which he would pay her claim. She had learned from Reed's brother that he did receive $217 that morning, wherefore, she prayed that he be detained and forced to liquidate.

A warrant and attachment were issued, but mean time the train on which Reed was alleged to have engaged passage had pulled out for the north, and Mrs. Lindenfeld was left lamenting.

Deputy Constable Lemon, in whose hands the warrant was placed for service, wired to all the principal stations from Newhall to Fresno for an officer to take Reed off the train, but the sleepy officials in the towns up the road allowed the fugitive to slip by unmolested.

No less than three damage suits have been filed against J. B. Lankershim, and in all cases the cause of complaint is identical and rather curious. It is contended that a tree was cut at the home place of the banker-capitalist, and it was permitted to lie in the street until the following day. All three of the complainants aver that in driving past in the evening their horses ran into the fallen tree with bad results to both men and horses.

Mrs. Grace Vincent is said to be an invalid of many years' standing, but Judge Campbell has cut her allowance from the estate of her deceased husband, from $200 to $100 per month. The estate was inventoried at $19.879.77, and the various claims of the widow if they are all allowed, will leave only $4000 for division, and of this, too, she will be entitled to a widow's share.

All that saved S. E. Mayor Eaton was up the river inspecting the water system and Commissioner Goss s out of the city and the other three ould share the responsibility revocation of license and they therefore deferred action until the next meeting, in the meantime citing Bisbee to appear to show cause, if any exists, why his license should not be revoked. The reason for this proposed revocation is that liquor was sold at Sycamore Grove, at which Bisbee has a restaurant liquor

Bisbee holds a restaurant ligense at Sycamore Grove for the purpose of 'Sunday picnics.' A full representation of the 'mac' element and their 'ladies' were gathered at the picnie held last Sunday, and dancing and drinking was the order of the day. At one side of the park is the so-called restaurant from which the walters brought the bottled beer and glasses, unaccompanied by any meal, except with an occasional 'subterfuge.' There was no pretense of any lunch or meal whatever. Bisbee and Packard were arrested, and the beer kegs and other evidence brought to the station and complaints for selling liquor without license filed against both men on May 22."

G. W. Wadsworth, president of Occidental College, appeared before the board and stated that the conduct of those who visited Sycamore Grove on Sundays was a disgrace to any community. He referred to the influence such a place had upon the students of any educational institution, and asked whether it was not possible that an end could be put to the drunken carousals there. He said if it were necessary he could get a petition from all the people in that part of the city to close the place, and asked whether it twould be necessary for him to produce such a petition. He was informed that the board would be glad to have such a petition, as it would show the feeling of the people who live in that vicinity. Commissioner Pascoe, on the showing made by Mr. Wadsworth, favored the immediate revocation of the license of minor injuries.

the place, and moved such a revocation. The other members, however, said it would be only fair to the proprotor to give him a chance to make such a defense as he was able to make. It was therefore decided to defer action until the next meeting of the board, and to cite Bisbee to appear at that meeting. A delegation of people from that part of the city wil also be present.

If the license of Gus Polson, proprietor of a saloon in the Arcade Hotel, is not revoked at the next meeting of the Police Commission, it will be because the commission does not care to enforce its own regulations with reference to Sunday closing, and is willing to give that saloon keeper "another chance to be good," as the Mayor once expressed it with reference to the saloon men who were cited to appear for Sunday sales of liquor. The case against Polson was not sufficiently strong to secure a conviction in the courts, and it remains to be seen whether the commission will live up to its orders to the police to arrest all persons who are found selling liquor on Sunday. The case against Polson was brought before the commission in the following report to Acting Chief Roberts from Patrolman Cox:

"On May 21, at 8 a.m., 1 arrested Gus Polson for selling liquor on Sunday and in violation of the Sunday-closing ordinance. Mr. Polson is bartender for John Schneider, proprietor of the Arcade Hotel saloon. The Deputy District Attorney did not deem it advisable to issue a complaint for the reason that my testimony could not be corroborated. The liquor was sold to two colored, porters of the railroad company. I desire to call your attention to this as a violation of said ordinance.

Again, the absence of two members of the board to show cause why his license should not be revoked. With reference to this case one of the commissioners remarked: "I supose this man will appear and assert that he did not know what his barkeeper was doing, and that the sales of liquor were without his knowledge or consent. This excuse will not go with me. I remember theit some excuse will not go with me. I remember that some time are we passed a resolution in which it was stated that the owners of a license would be held responsible for what was done on their places. If Officer Cox makes good his case I will vote to revoke that license also."

The members of the commission later indulged in some discussion as to the failure of Cox to produce sufficient evidence of the sale of liquor to warrant a conviction. The sentiment expressed by them was that if he knew to whom the liquor was sold it would have been an easy matter for him to summon the negro porters as witnesses, and with their evidence secure a conviction. It was announced by one of the members that Cox will be called upon to explain why he did not do this.

Fancher for the transfer of the license of Joseph Belohlavek at No. 808 Macy street, were granted on recommendation of the officer who had investigated the matter. The latter license transfer had caused some trouble to the commission several weeks ago, John Clark having applied for the transfer, but his application was refused, owing to business complications with a brewer.

At the last meeting of the commission H. J. Smith presented a bill for $18.50 against Robert Stewart, a member of the police force. It was referred to the acting chief, and yester-

City Officials Inspect the Source of Water Supply. Nearly all the members of the Coun-cil, Mayor Eaton, City Engineer Olm-sted, City Attorney Haas and Deputy City Attorney Hewitt, spent the en-tire day yesterday in inspecting the source of the city's water supply. The party left the City Hall at 8 o'clock or the members of the party found an immense maul and brought it to the City Hall and presented it to President Silver as a gavel to be used in debate on the water question. It was presented to him by the Mayor and Councilmen Toll and Vetter.

Protest from Lodging-houses. One of the most numerously-signed protests that has been presented for the consideration of the City Council in months was filed yesterday in the office of the City Clerk by the owpers of lodging-houses in this city. It is against the proposition to license such places, as petitioned for recently by the Southern California Hotel Association. tion. The protest simply recites that the signers thereof oppose the proposi-tion to charge such a license, and then follow signatures covering three yards of paper. There are between 400 and 500 names on the communication.

City Electrician Francis yesterday received the last of the switchboards for the new fire-slarm system, which was ordered recently from the Gamewell Company of New York. AT THE COURT HOUSE,

TRIPLET OF SUITS.

B. LANKERSHIM SUED FOR DAM-

Olive Street Alleged to Hay Im-peded Traffic and Acted as a Trap for Vehicles.

J. B. Lankershim is face to face with a heap of trouble, and all be-cause a tree was cut down at his home place at Olive and Tenth streets. As a result of this very simple procedure, three suits have been filed in the Town-ship Court. C. M. Briggs and J. J. Lonergan each want $299.99 of Mr. Lankershim's noney,and William Murphy, the livery-nan, desires to annex $96.50 from the offers of the same gentleman, and the reason of it all is simply this: The in a trap, and were driving along Olive street, about 8:30 o'clock in the evening. They were not aware that during the day a large pepper tree had been cut down on the Lankershim place, and after failing across the road, had been allowed to remain there. All the same the tree is alleged to have been there, but that in consequence of the darkness neither Briggs nor Lonergan could see it as it lay in such a position in the street to impede traffic. As a result it is averred that these plaintiffs drove into the obstruction, the trap was overturned, the horses broke loose and ran away, and both of the plaintiffs were thrown to the ground and injured. Briggs alleges that he in a trap, and were driving along Olive loose and ran away, and both of the plaintiffs were thrown to the ground and injured. Briggs alleges that he paid out $10 for physician's services, but his companion in trouble avers that he was laid up for ten days and expended $15 for medical attendance. For the sufferings of mind and body the plaintiffs claim $299.99 each.

The third suit, brought by W. Murphay, is alleged to be for recovery of an amount for actual damage wrought to the vehicle of the plaintiff. Mr. Murphy avers that he was driving a carriage past the Lankershim residence on the night of the 13th of last December, and collided with the tree lying across the road. The carriage was ber, and collided with the tree lying across the road. The carriage was broken, the horse injured, and the following is averred to be a bill of the costs: Veterinary's bill, $11: repairing the carriage, $15: for loss of the horse's services during twenty-seven days. $5. loss of the use of the carriage during eleven days. $16.50, making a grand total of $96.50, for which judgment is asked.

Estate Despite Her Invalidism. Mrs. Grace Vincent, widow of the late Levi B. Vincent of Santa Monica, appeared through her attorneys in the probate department yesterday to show cause why the family allowance here-tofore granted to her should not be re-

Levi B. Vincent died on November in the estate were the widow, a niece, Cora V. Burke, and a brother of the deceased, Stephen C. Vincent. Against the estate claims were filed and allowed to the extent of $5940. The widow had a homestead valued at $3500, set aside for her use, and there is a suit now pending in court wherein she is seeking to have $5000 worth of bank stock impressed as a trust in her behalf. Personal property valued at $700 also was turned over to the widow, and since last January she has been drawing $200 a month as family allowance. Altogether, if Mrs. Vincent's suit goes through the court all right, there will be less than $4000 in the estate to divide among the heirs, she coming in for her share of that portion of the estate also. The other heirs protested. But there only seemed one point where proin the estate were the widow, a niece, saiso. The other heirs protested. But there only seemed one point where protest would avail much, and that was in the matter of the family allowance. They opined that Mrs. Vincent might manage to worry along on a smaller sum than $200 a month, and Judge Campbell was of the same way of thinking when the matter was explained to him yesterday.

The court thought that if the allowance were cut in two the amount would still be a comfortable one, but it was explained that Mrs. Vincent was a confirmed invalid, and subject to epileptic attacks. For thirty years a niece has been taking care of her and living in the family, and no special salary was paid to her during that time, but a short time ago she, too, put in a latin secient the second of the salary and the second of the salary was paid to her during that time, but a short time ago she, too, put in a latin second the salary second of the salary second of the salary second the salary seco party left the City Hall at 8 o'clock yesterday in two carriages, and drove up the San Fernando road and on up the river to the points at which the water is diverted from the river basin to the ditches and mains through which it is brought to the city. Mayor Eaton and City Engineer Olmsted were able to point out much of interest and importance which the members of the Council did not know, as both of them have made extensive studies of the water question as engineers.

President Silver was unable to accompany the party, but he was remembered by them. In a remote place in the woods near the headworks, some of the members of the party found an office of the members of the party found and thought it to the lawyers thought, and in such case the allowance of $100 suggested by the court would be quite inadequate.

Judge Campbell said that he thought that Mrs. Vincent must get a cheaper attendant, or persuade the niece to grade down her salary. Considering the amount of the estate, he thought $100 a very liberal amount for family allowance, and an order fixing that as the amount was entered.

THE WRIT DENIED.

Another Attempt to Be Made in the Case of Juanita Valder.

In the case of the application before Judge Trask for a writ of habeas cor-pus by Hugh J. Crawford, Esq., in be-half of the Mexican woman, Juanita Valdez, the application has been de-pus by Hugh J. Crawford, Esq., in behalf of the Mexican woman, Juanita Valdez, the application has been denied. A rather nice question of law is involved, and one which defendant's counsel intends to have decided on appeal, if the money is forthcoming with which to test the matter.

Primarily, Judge Trask held that in this case a habeas-corpus petition would not lie, for the reason that the matter sought to be reached was really a review of the proceeding in the Police Court, to which exception was taken. The court held that a habeas-corpus proceeding could not be made to serve the purposes of either a writ of error or a writ of review, and for that reason the application was necessarily refused, and the defendant remanded back to the custody of the city police. At the same time the court touched upon the rather difficult legal question involved, and thought that it ought to be determined in the proper way on appeal. It is the system of passing what are called "floater" sentences that is being attacked in this case. The Valdez woman was arrested as a vagrant, and to the charge preferred against her pleaded gulity. She was given what is popularly termed a "floater sentence;" that is, a time was set for sentence, and she was released upon the understanding that she would get out of the city. When the case was called in due time for sentence, the woman, of course, was not present, but the formality was gone through, and she was sentenced to forty days in the City Jail. A week ago Juanita Valdez appeared about the city again, and was immediately arrested and thrown into the City Jail. So soon as she showed herself again in Los Angeles the "floater," or suspended sentence, became operative, and she was arrested to serve her term. Now the question has been raised as to whether this style of procedure is authorized by law.

It is contended that the mere fact of a court stipulating with a defendant that he or sic, as the case may be, may avoid punishment by leaving Los Angeles, is so contrary to the spirit of justice, which is supposed to be the very essence of the law, as to rob the whole proceeding of any consideration beyond the mere technical construction that may fairly be placed upon it by law. There is a provision of the code that says that in cases of misdemeanor in the Superior Court, sentences may be passed in the absence of the defendant, but no corresponding provision is made for the police or justices' courts. With regard to them it is stated that the defendant must be present when the trial begins, and by the defendant's counsel in the present case it is contended that the sentence is the culmination and very focus of the trial, and consequently by an inevitable inference the defendant is required to be present, not only at the beginning, but throughout the trial. And furthermore, that if the law had designed that the subordinate courts should have power to sentence defendants in their absence, it would have been so specifically stated as in the case of misdemeanor cases in the Superior Court.

For these and other reasons the habeas-corpus application of Juanita Valdez is of some importance, and if an appeal is taken to Judg Smith's department the outcome will be eagerly scanned. There is one reason given in favor of the "floater' system that is not altogether without weight. It is averred that when a respectable young man or woman in any way drifts from grace and falls into the clutches of the police, a suspended sentence gives the erring one a chance to retrieve his or her position without having a court record rising up in judgment in the years to come. For in these cases no permanent record of the trial and sentence is made. In this way it is contended that after a first offense a defendant is not irretrievably ruined, but may again attain respectability without being handicapped by a police record.

SECRETARY DANIEL'S SUIT.

Claim for Damages from the Los Angeles Traction Company.

Leroy K. Daniel, son of P. M. Daniel, president of the Pacific Crockery and Tinware Company, and prominent in the Board of Trade, has a grievance against the Los Angeles Traction Com-pany, which is being ventilated in Judge Trask's department before a jury.

It is alleged, and the fact itself is not denied that on July 13, 1898, Mr. Daniel who is the secretary of the company of which his father is the president, tumbled off the doefendant companion. of which his father is the president, tumbled off the doefendant company's cars at the corner of Eighth and Valencia streets. He contended yesterday while upon the witness stand that his sudden descent was owing to the carelessness of the motorman, who did not slow up as had been the custom upon turning the cruve. The plaintiff alleged that he was standing on the rear platform of the car with his back against the door engaged in smoking a cigarette, when the car sharply rounded the corner at a rate of speed utterly inconsistent with his ability to retain his foothold.

Mr. Daniel avers that he was se-rounded the corner at a rate of speed utterly inconsistent with his ability to retain his foothold.

Mr. Daniel avers that he was severely bruised and wounded, and that for four days he was laid up by reason of the injuries he sustained. For the anguish, both of mind and body, that he endured, he asks the court to award him as compensation $299.90 of the Traction Company's money.

But the defendant company avers that the accident by which Mr. Daniel suffered injury, if he did so suffer injury, was the result of contributory negligence on his part, and that the servants of the company were running the car in the usual way. The plaintiff is being represented by Zach Montgomery and N. Newby, Esqs., and the Traction Company by E. H. Lamme and E. E. Müllkin, Esqs. After the selection of a jury yesterday, there was a temporay hitch when the plaintiff proceeded in formal order to prove the first allegation of the complaint, viz., that the Los Angeles Traction Company is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Callfornia. Attorneys for the plaintiff asked counsel on the other side to concede that merely formal point, but the defense were not conceding anything, and it appeared as if the attorneys for the plaintiff would have to dig up the incorporation papers in the County Clerk's office. In due time, however, it developed that any such search would be useless as the Traction Company is not organized under the laws of this State at all, but under those of the State of Illinois. The development of that fact made it incumbent upon the plaintiff to amend his complaint.

The suit now being tried is on appeal from the Justice Morgan and a jury, and resulted in a verdict being returned for the defendant company. From the decision then rendered the appeal was taken by the plaintiff.

this county, has been affirmed by

The defendant was convicted of a robbery alleged to have been committed on February 24, 1898, by the stealing of $18 from the person of one Heisler. The appeal was taken from the judgment, from the order of court denying a new trial, and from the order denying a motion in arrest of judgment. The principal point made by defendant's counsel was that the evidence was not sufficient to sustain the verdict. The Supreme Court disagreed with able counsel for the defense.

RELEASE FROM WHITTIER. J. Roche, Esq., an attorney from San Francsco, had his application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of James Nolan, who was committed to the Reform School at Whittier from San Francisco, made returnable in Judge Campbell's department yesterday. The application for the writ was made to the Supreme Court in the first instance, Chief Justice Beatty making the writ returnable in the Superior Court of this county. The boy in whose behalf the proceedings have been taken was committed five years ago, and his time is alleged to have expired. Judge Campbell continued the matter yesterday until June 15, by consent, as the authorities at the Reform School do not intend to oppose the application for release, and before the case is again called the necessity for a hearing will have passed away. E. Hochstadter, alias George F.

AT THE END OF HIS ROPE

FORGER HOCHSTADTER JERKED UP AT SEATTLE, WASH.

Iowa Authorities Have the Call on Him and He May not Be'Brought Here to Answer for Swindling

E. Hochstadter, alias George F.
Lewis, for whom the local police have been looking since May. 9, has apparently reached the end of his tether at last. The fellow was arrested in Seattle Monday, but he is wanted so badly elsewhere that he will probably not be brought back to Los Angeles to be tried for his alleged wrongdoing here. Hochstadter is reputed to be one of the smoothest forgers and confidence workers in the country, although his work, in respect to its sameness, at least, is decidedly coarse. During his recent visit to this city he caught an easy sucker in the person of H. S. Baer, a whine merchant, at No. 453 South Spring street. Baer accommodatingly cashed a forged draft for $300 at Hochstadter's request, after an acquaintance of only a few days. For that reason the local detectives here have been very anxious to lay hands on the aforesaid Hochstadter.

Although Hochstandter's work is coarse, as already intimated, Baer is hardly to be blamed for being caught. Probably nine business men out of every ten would have taken the bait in the same manner, but the moral is none the less pertinent: Beware of cashing checks or drafts for strangers.

Mr. Baer's undoing, according to his own sworn statement, was accomplished in the following manner:

On April 26 last, George Simon of San Francisco introduced Hochstadter to Baer, as a New York capitalist, who was in Los Angeles for his health. Hochstadter cultivated Baer's acquaintance and soon informed the wine merchant that he had a sick mother in New York to whom he desired to send some wine for medicinal purposes Mr. Baer had some old California port that was just the right stuff. On May 2 the alleged New York capitalist purchased eighteen gallons of the wine which he had consigned to his alleged addraft for $300 on the Fourth National Bank of New York. The price was $33, and in payment Hochstadter flashed a draft for $300 on the Fourth of the bank named. To all appearances the draft was genuine and worth its face value. Mr. Baer unhesitatingly accepted it, an forgery.

It was not until May 9 that Baer learned that he had been swindled. He It was not until May 9 that Baer learned that he had been swindled. He at once cormunicated his misfortune to the police and a warrant for the arrest of Hochstadter on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses was sworn out. Circulars embellished with Hockstadter's photograph and offering a reward of $25 for his arrest were sent broadcast, although every precaution was taken by the detective department to prevent information of the affair from getting into the newspapers. It was not until after the news leaked out, however, and was published far and wide that the swindler was apprehended, again proving that publicity is an aid rather than a hindrance to bringing law-breakers to justice.

But it is doubtful whether Hochstadter will be brought back to Los Angeles to answer for his wrongdoing here. He is wanted for offenses of the same kind elsewhere, and the Iowa officials appear to have the call on him. It is probable, therefore, that the $25 reward offered in the name of Chief of Police Glass will not have to be paid.

Hochstadter, alias Lewis, was arrested in Seattle for passing a forged check or draft on a hotel proprietor for $50. Owing to the publicity given to his operations through the press, the Seattle police readily identified him as a fugitive wanted in California and Iowa, for the same kind of trickery practiced in Seattle. The local police were notified of the arrest Monday afternoon, and a warrant was at once telegraphed to Seattle for his detention until an officer from this city should arrive with requisition papers for his extradition to California. Deputy District Attorney Willis at once set about the preparation of the necessary papers, but yesterday morning a telegram was received from Seattle, stating that the Iowa authorities had made a demand for the prisoner and that an officer would leave Des Moines at once with a requisition for his transfer to that State, where he is alleged to have obtained $150 by means of a forged draft. The distance from Des Moines to Seattle is considerably shorter by rail than from Los Angeles to Seattle. In view of this fact, with the probability that the Iowa officer would get there first and be given possession of the prisoner, it was decided yesterday not to send an officer from here, unless it should develop that the Iowa authorities have walved their claims to the culprit.

A peculiarity of Hockstadter's operations is that he travels about the country under but two names, his true name. Hochstadter and his alias, George F. Lewis. He has borne these names for years, and the name he forges to bogus drafts is invariably that of Simon Borg. Through this sameness of names his work is coarse, and the wonder is that he has not been tripped up ofte

Dr. Bicknell presented Dr. Pierce with a diploma certifying to his ability and signed by the board of directors of the California Hospital. The occasion was in all respects an enjoyable one. Dr. Pierce left yesterday for New York, where he will remain for six weeks, after which he will return to Los Angeles and take up the practice of his profession.

Mrs. Joseph Baxter of East Twenty-fifth street entertained a merry company of boys and girls in honor of her daughter Margery's birthday anniversary Saturday afternoon. The reception hall was made a bower of beauty by smilax and sweet peas and in a cosy corner was the punch bowl. The drawing-room was decorated with carnations, roses and ferns, and the library was in white and green. In the dining-room pink sweet peas were used. In the center of the long table was the birthday cake, with its eleven pink candles and bon-bon copes at each plate. On each end of the table were bouquets of pink sweet peas and the cloth was covered with the same dainty flower. Daylight was excluded and the lights were shaded with colors corresponding with the decorations of each room. The afternoon was spent with music and guessing games, and prizes were awarded Jennie Lamb, Florence Quiggles, Florence Brown and Florence Wells, Following the games refreshments were served. ### DRUGGIST PARK REPLIES. Shows That Attorney Rush's Asser-tions Were Unfounded.

At a hearing before the Board of Suof University against the gambling gang that has been violating the law by selling liquor on Sunday at Agri-cultural Park, the attorney for the cultural Park, the attorney for the gamblers tried to creat a diversion by asserting that a drug store in the neighborhood had been carrying on a Sunday saloon business. H. L. Park, proprietor of the drug store, writes in reply to Attorney Rush's allegations:

"During the entire day last Sunday only three sales of liquor were made, and they were for medicinal purposes. Two of the customers were residents of University and not in any way connected with the Agricultural Park. The third customer, I now have reason to believe, came from the park, but before was apparently over 21 years of age. A few minutes later a boy of about 17 or 18 came in and asked me for a half-pint of whisky. I asked him no questions whatever, but refused him point blank, saying at the time that I did not sell liquor to boys.

"I have always tried to conduct my store in a manner that would be above reproach, and these accusation made in public by a prominent attorney I consider to be unjust and uncalled for, especially as I had no chance to go upon the witness stand and tell my side of the story.

"In regard to the sale of liquor on Sunday, any druggist has a right, according to law, to do so, provided he sells for medicinal purposes.

"If a 'bottle brigade,' as Mr. Rush termed it, was established on the outside of the park, some other drug store besides mine profited thereby. My store was closed from 10:15 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. last Sunday. I had no one in the back room washing glasses, as I employ no clerk, and have no back room."

WING CHING DISGUSTED.

Chinese Merchant Mulcted for Wing Ching is disgusted with his countrymen. Ching is a prosperous Chinese merchant, and believes it is good business policy to be a law-abid-ing citizen, whether living in the United States or China. He thinks some of his countrymen in this city are very foolish for defying the laws of their adopted country. Yet he is a philanthropist in his way, and not infrequently helps his Chinese friends out quently helps his Chinese friends out of trouble, when they transgress the statutes and are held to account by the authorities. Last week an acquaintance of Ching was fined $25 for selling lottery tickets. The culprit had only $20, so he appealed to Wing Ching to help him out. Ching went his security for the other $5, and the prisoner was released on the understanding that was released on the understanding that he would pay the balance of the fine within a few days. The time for payment expired last Monday, but the defaulting Chinaman did not show up. When Wing Ching learned of this yesterday, he made good the amount out of his own pocket. He did so with a rueful countenance, however, and vowed that he would deliver his defaulting ballee to the officers of the law at the first opportunity. # STRANGE GIFT

Wonderful Powers of Second Sight Possessed by Kohler, "The Oriental Seer,"

One of the many advantages of living in a de lightful city like Los Angeles lies in the fact that one may often come in contact with noted people. The glorious climate and beautiful people. The giorrous climate and beautiful scenery draw many people here who have made themselves famous in various ways. There is no longer a reasonable doubt but that certain people are gifted with what is known as "second sight." A careful investigation shows world-thus gifted, and of these only three are in the United States. Perhaps the most gifted of all is Kohler, "The Oriental Seer," who is now in Los Angeles. During the past few months he has attracted an enormous amount of attention through his miraculous gift, as demonstrated to throngs of people at his parlors at 25 South Spring street.

We are inclined to seoff at that which we do not thoroughly understand, and Americans in particular are considered a skeptical race. A reporter called on Kohler in the expectation of finding him to be like many other so-called Life Readers. Never was man more mistaken. He found a gentleman of pleasing appearance, cultured and sincere in all that he claimed he could do.

He speedily, vérified his claims to inheritance of a truly marvelous insight into the

He speedily verified his claims to inheritance of a truly marvelous insight into the lives of those with whom he conversed. Kohler does not deal in ambiguous generalities that really may mean everything or nothing. No indeed. On the contrary he brings to light facts about yourself that you hought were secrets of your own.

Important dates and names are as well known to him as to yourself. He gives the full name of every caller, and tells for what purpose the came. In a few moments the most skeptical are convinced that here is a man with a strange power.

The question naturally arises: How does he

SILVER FOR INDIA. Exports of silver from London to the East since January 1 are £2,033,000, against £2,-939,000 for the same priod last year.

MUNICIPAL BONDS. The sales of municipal securities in the United States during the month of April aggregate $7,061,352. The notable sales were those of Cleveland at an income basis of 3.11 per cent.; Buffalo at 2.99 and 2.96 per cent., and Providence at 3.01 and per cent., and Providence at 3.01 and 2.91 per cent. Prices for secrities of this class are still high, says the American Banker, as these figures indicate. The fact that most of such issues are secured by dealers who intend to dispose of them at a profit afterward, shows how little investors are now willing to take for their money.

Blevin has sold his entire crop of fruit to the Gridley (Butte county) cannery. It includes peaches from 1500 Tuscan cling and 2800 early Crawford and Foster trees, and fruit from 800 apricot trees. The consideration it is said, was $11,000, and the estimated yield is 400 tons in all, an average of $27.50 per ton.

FOREIGN CITRUS FRUIT. Lemons and oranges on the way to this country and Canada on May 6 in the years mentioned were as follows, in boxes: 1889, 238,150 of lemons, 64,625 of oranges; 1898, 154,600 of lemons, 2500 of oranges; 1897, 161,000 of lemons, 41,300 of oranges.

EUROPEAN BEET SUGAR. The European beet-sugar crops, campaign of 1888-99, are estimated by Licht at 4,910,000 tons, against 4,831,774 tons in 1897-98; 4,916,586 tons in 1896-97. These figures indicate that the beet-sugar industry is not expanding.

RIO COFFEE. News from Brazil is to the effect that the coffee crop now growing promises to be of excellent quality and very large quantity.

PRIVATE , BRANDS. There are many experienced retailers that object to selling canned goods and other articles under their own label. They claim that if the quality is deficient the consumer throwns the blame on them, and not on the packer, says the Amerand not on the packer, says the American Grocer, where it properly belongs, and therefore they are unwilling to assume the responsibility for goods over the packing of which they exercise no supervision. the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co., said:

"While it is a burning question upon what the currency shall be based, whether gold or stiver, or if the promise to pay by the government, there are no two opinions as to the basis of credit. This basis is composed, first, of a high moral tone; second, busines capacity; and, third, adequate capital. How these are to be ascertained in each individual instance is the credit problem of the hour. Whether the solution of this problem rests in existing methods, it is not for me to decide; but from observation and experience, I could say with truth, that the weakest link in the chain of business instrumentalities is the inadequacy of information and the inaccuracy of reports."

Every tyro in the insurance business knows that the "moral risk" is one of the most important considerations with all underwriters. So it is in credits. The promise of an honest, industrious, sober poor man is worth more than that of a tricky, or of an idle person or of a dissipated persons worth ten times as much. NEW MOTIVE POWERS. The president of the British Coal Mining Association, Forster Brown, in the course of a recent address, remarked that within fifty years the best of British coal, the kind that is now being worked, would be exhausted. After that there will remain thin seams, and thick seams at very great doubt working. will remain thin seams, and thick seams at very great depths, neither of which could at present be worked in competition with the more accessible coal. Commenting on the foregoing the Dundee (Scotland) Observer says: "When our accessible coal is exhausted it is doubtful if the thin seams and the very deep seams can be worked in competition with the more accessible supply of other lands, as yet but slightly encroached on. Perhaps, however, before the fifty years have run we shall have developed other sources of energy which will diminish our dependence upon coal. We have begun to utilize our water-power to some purpose, and the experimental physicist has visions of sources of energy hardly dreamt of hy ordinary. has visions of sources of energy hardly dreamt of by ordinary human-ity."

LOS ANGELES MARKETS.

LOS ANGELES. May 23, 1899.

Receipts of poultry are light so far this week. The market is steady.

Eggs are irregular, some holding firmly at 16½ cents for fresh ranch, while others quote as low as 15½. One large retail store is selling at 15 cents by the single dozen. There are only a few eastern on the market, but they are quite sufficient to upset things.

New potatoes are not very plentiful, and fancy sell at $2 in a jobbing way.

Cabbage is coming in more freely and prices tend to a lower level. For the best crated for shipment $1.25 per cental is the outside. Common in sacks sells down to 75 cents.

For the heavier weight 69'er bacon the market is easier, light-weight and medium being steady. White Label lard is quoted lower.

Wholesalers are shading canned tomatoes from northern packing-houses. These can be bought for 90 cents.

A little new comb honey is coming in and is held for 12½ cents up. The crop will be light.

Hay is duil at $8 to $10 for alfalfa, the out-light.

Hay is dull at $8 to $10 for alfalfa, the outside being for a single ton; $12 to $14 for new barley, with the same condition, and $16 for choice old barley.

Cherries sold at $1 to $1.10 for good black and 60 to 80 cents for white. Good apricots sell at extreme prices, while a lot of the trash being shipped in is scarcely saleable. currants are in at 20 cents per small, retail, and new figs at 40 cents per

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.

[ASSOCIATED FRESS NIGHT REFORT.]

NEW YORK, May 23.—Neglect of the Stock Exchange by the outside public continued to be the marked feature of the trading, and, as is usual in a narrow market, prices drifted uneasily up and down, following the erratic movements of special stocks. Dealings were evidently almost wholly confined to the professional element which seeks profits on the day's turn in prices. As this class of dealers watch pretty closely for what other people are doing and proceed to do likewise, the net effect in a day's business, or taking one day with another, is not large. Yesterday's late upward movement was followed by a realizing, and later by a sharp advance, which was practically wiped out before the close. Sugar was the center of interest in the market, and rebounded quite strongly from the early pressure, together with the affiliated glucose stocks. But realizing took off all the early gain, and left it at the last five points below the highest and near the lowest point of the day. The drop in Sugar was accompanied by a strong rally in the New York municipal stocks, Consolidated Gas, Manhattan, Brooklyn Transit and Metropolitan rising from two to four points. This concurrent movement in the leading specialites panied by a strong railly in the New York municipal stocks, Consolidated Gas, Manhattan, Brooklyn Transit and Metropolitan rising from two to four points. This concurrent movement in the leading specialties gave quite an appearance of strength to the market for a time, and their stocks gained in the upward movement. The weakness in wheat, especially the reported selling from the Southwest, helped this movement, but the persistent reports of insect damage and news from abroad that American wheat was practically unsalable at present prices helped the late breaking in Grangers and Southwesterns. There was a breath of unsalable, and the strength of the continuing ease in money suggests that the methods employed to finance the Philippines payment to Spain have forced something of a redundancy in the local money market, resulting in the rather artificial stiffness of exchange rates. Exchange on Berlin also hardened a fraction today, although that money center was reported to be buying American stocks from London. The newly-floated industrial stocks continued rather consplicuous by weakness. Anaconda broke two points and in the outside Amalgamated Copper, the payment of subscriptions for which was completed yesternay; fell to par, which is the subscription price. The closing on the exchange was a good demand for some of the reorganization 4 per cent. railroad bonds, the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific fours both touching record prices. Total sales, par value, were $1,174,000. United States bonds were unchanged.

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Commercial-Advertiser's London financial cablegram says:

"The holiday feeling continues here. The tone of today's market was heavy on foreign prices. Americans opened flat and remained steady at about parity. The volume of buying is much reduced. New York allowed prites to slide, but a slight rally occurred in the street, and the close was about the opening level. Coppers were strong early, but the finish was weaker. Tintos were 50½ 659%; Anacondas, 136/124; Utahs, 9½,69%; Bostons, 2½. Silver was firm on the closing of cash contracts. The Japanese loan of 10,000,000 at 4 per cent., which was to be offered at 90 next week, has been taken "firm" by four leading banks.

Grain and Produce. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CHICAGO, May 23.—Renewed claims of drought from Russia and prospects of an improved cash business gave wheat a firm start, but the market soon began to yield, however, under generous selling owing to more seasonable weather. During the first part of the session the market sold off a cent. Covering on advices confirming previously reported damage by insects started a rally, but liquidation set in on every bulge, and the market closed at about the best. July opened a shade higher at 75@75%, declined to 74%; advanced to 75%; sold off 74%, rose to 75%; declined to 74%, and

I wish to let you know what Cupidene has done for me. While I was almost a total wreck a few months ago, I am now in a perfect condition, and I must give all praise to Cupidene for it. I was completely broken down from alcoholic and other excesses. I was up late at nights, had no regular hours for restror eating, and indulged in all forms of dissipation. This continued for a number of years, and I felt myself gradually sinking. I had points in my back lack of energy and almost complete loss of vital power. A constant drain on my eyetem was weakening me greatly and I felt myself gradually being drawn down. The cause of my condition could be read in my face. I had dark rings under my eyes and my cheeks were pinched and drawn. It healthing that my condition was getting serious, I decided to do something for myself.

Capidane was recommended to me a I had also read of cases similar to mine that Capidene had cured and I made up my mind to try it. It worked wonders. The pain and weakness in my back disappeared. My face became fleshy, and the dark rings beneath my eyes disappeared I I used the Cupidene faithfully and regularly, and gradually each symptom left. My what popular enterned with greater energy. The drains ceased entirely and I felt myself again coming inforpossession of perfect manly powers. Cupidene is certainly a great remedy. To all persons who are suffering as I did, I will say, "Use Cupidene." Cupidene, will surely oure you, for it cured me. Should any person have any doubts as to the value of Cupidene, I will be pleased to have them communicate with me and I will tell Cupidene is sold for $1.00 perbox; 6.50xes $5.00. them more about my ca se.

Cupidene cures Weakness, Failings, Melancholia, Bad Nights, Sleeplessness, Loss of Strength. If you are in doubt about Cupidene, write for Book of Known Cures.

PRATERNITY HALL BUILDING TO BE ERECTED SOON.

Donation of Rock for Street In provements-City Trustees Have not Engaged a Solicitor of Water Yet-Proposed New Hall for Maccabees.

PASADENA, May 23.—[Regular Correspondence.] Matthew Slavin has had plans made for a fine brick block on the west side of North Fair Oaks avenue, between Colorado and Union streets, and would like to finish an up-to-date fraternity hall in the upper story. His architect has prepared a design for a stunning suite of apartments for the Maccabees, which will be discussed by the tent at its next meeting. The Maccabees now are tenants of Odd Fellows' Hall, but some of the more enthusiastle members would like to have a hall of their own. The old wheel horses, however, are disposed to move slowly in such an undertakins, on account of the increased expense. The matter was informally considered last evening. Much interest has been aroused, and there will be a lively debate pro and con when the question comes un for a vote. The block will be erected whether the Maccabees engage the quarters or not.

GENEROUS OFFER.

C. B. Scoville and the Messrs. Campbell-Johnston have generously offered, through the Better Roads Society, to jointly sive enough bluestone in their quarry on the wes, side of the Arroyo to surface South Orange Grove avenue. This public-spirited act is a long step toward a big improvement, Officers of the Better Roads Society South Orange Grove to Colorado street on the south along Orange Grove to Colorado to the eastern city limits. They believe that beautiful and servicable roads can be built in this city without the expensive rock undation found necessary in the East, giving substantially all the benefits of a macadam road at a lessened cost. They have been making inquiries among residents of Orange Grove avenue, and are convinced that these abuttors will favor such an improvement. They have been consulting with the City Trustees and hope that steps toward the improvement may be completed immediately after the heavy rains.

MUNICIPAL WATER CAMPAIGN. GENEROUS OFFER.

MUNICIPAL WATER CAMPAIGN.

The City Trustees today devoted considerable time to forwarding their scheme for the acquirement of the present water plants by the city. They have beceived so much encouragement from individual stockholders that they are confident that their plan for getting hold of a majority of the shares will be accomplished. "We believe it will go through, and go easily," said Trustee Dooblas tonlight. There will be no delay. The canvass for the man to solicit it has been secured. The Trustees have been in conference with a number of gentlemen fitted to do this important work, but have not yet engaged anybody. The answer of the West Side Water Company to the interrogatories put by the City Trustees was received today, and is more favorable in its language than the reply of the East Side Company. The west Side directors may in effect: "We will sell our system city at a fair cash valuation, with the approval of our stockholders, subject to the territory outside of the city limits shall continue to be supplied with water as now; and, as municipal ownership in Pasadena is understood to mean a largely increased supply of water, our company will insist on such additional supply belong secured before transferring its rights to the city, or at least that the water as now; and accepted to make one when your honorable body shall express a desire to acquire the property on the terms mentioned." The City Trustees will continue negotiations with this company in friendly spirit. They received today offers

Mayor Patten expressed the opinion that perhaps the application of this company to come into Pasadena had grown out of the war between two rival corporations in Los Angeles, and when peace had been declared the Pasadena project would be abandoned. Mr. Gibbs contended, however, that his company was extending its line in this direction already, and was reaching out for the business of Pasadena without regard to Los Angeles troubles.

Final action was taken for the widening of Walnut street ten feet, between Pair Oaks and Marengo avenues. All opposition has been removed by the new report of the commissioners.

SAN DIEGO. May 23.—[Regular Correspondence.] A letter received in this city yesterday from Ensenada states that the excitement there is intense over the new placer diggings in the Santa Clara Mountains. The steamer Pacheco leaves there tomorrow afternoon for Ascension Day, the nearest point on the coast to the camp, and will have a full load of freight and passengers, some burros and mules. All who come to San Quentin and Ensenada confirm the reports of the wonderful richness of the two feet from the surface, all very coarse. port of the diggings. The location of the camp on the map is fifteen or twenty miles north of the 27th parallel, and about the same distance west of the lith degree of legethide.

A considerable quantity of the gold was brought to this city yesterday. Allan Fraser of Los Angeles brought up $5000 in bullion, seventy-two ounces were received by the Blochman Banking Company, and Simon Lovi received about sixty ounces. The gold is about .952 fine. Miners and other men in this city are taking considerable interest in the new diggings, and it is probable that the .8t. Denis will have a big passenger list tonight of men bound for the new camp. A party of Escondido men are arranging to charter a schooner to go down to Ascension Bay. The schooner Anita will sail later in the week for the nearest point to the placers.

AFFAIRS OF THE CITY.

A large amount of routine business was transacted by the City Council at its meeting last night. The report of the committee on the consolidation of the offices of plumbing spector and sewer inspector was taken ap, and after being discussed was referred back to the committee, with instruction to investigate all departments of the city and report og the advisability of retrenchment. The recommendation of the Street Committee that the city be divided into five districts, in each of which an overseer of streets should be appointed was filed, after some discussion. The Vidette was awarded the city printing for the next two years. An ordinance was adopted requiring runners or hotels, boarding-houses and lodging-houses to wear badges and to pay a quarterly license of $2.50.

ELECTRIC LIGHT BID ACCEPTED.

The board of City Trustees at their meeting Monday evening accepted the bid of Belmont Perry of this city for an electric light and power franchise under certain conditions to be imposed by the board. It is understood that these conditions consist of the furnishing of free lights in the City Hall Public Library, Jail and power-house, and perhaps a few other concessions on the part of the company. It is expected now that the conditions will all be agreed to before the end of the week, so that the franchise may be passed and the work of installing the piant be pushed along as rapidly as possible. The company agrees to begin work within thirty days after the graphic production of the franchise, and to expend within six months from the granting system will consist of are lights in the business portion of the city, and about two hundred incandescent lamps, of two hundred candle power each, located in the residence ELECTRIC LIGHT BID ACCEPTED.

Patronage—Golf Links.

Long BEACH, May 23.—[Regular Correspondence.] Two water companies are bidding for the city's patronage, and the question of municipal ownership of a water supply system is receiving more than common-place attention. The Bouton Water Company, through its attorney, T. B. Gibbon, submitted to the Trustees at a meeting held last week a proposition to put in a twenty-four-inch main, which would provide sufficient water for the whole city, and under a pressure sufficient to reach the tops of the highest buildings. Certain provisions for compensation to the company were stated. At the meeting of the board Monday evening Mr. Gibbon presented an alternative proposition to the effect that the company would lay a twenty-four-inch main if the city would agree for a period of twenty years to take therefrom the water necessary for street sprinkling, and for use at the schoolhouses at the same rate for water service as fixed by the board from year to year under the law requiring the governing bodies of municipalities to prescribe rates of water supply, the Bouton company to receive not more than 3 cents per 1000 gallons, and the contract to terminate if the city becomes the possessor of a water supply plant.

struck by a Southern Facine train a few hours earlier, while driving from this city to his home at El Monte. About half-way between the city limits and Shorb's Junction, the highway to El Monte crosses the railroad. At this crossing the train overtook the buggy containing Mr. Maxson and Mr. Warner, both hard of hearing.

Maxson, who was driving, evidently did not hear the train, nor see it until he was within a few feet of the crossing, when he suddenly whipped up his horse and tried to cross the track in front of the oncoming train.

The effort was too late. The locomotive struck the horse broadside and tore him from the vehicle. The animal was killed outright. The detached buggy was upset and broken, and the occupants were hurled to the ground with great violence. Warner escaped with a few bruises, but Maxson sustained a severe fracture of the skull, and his right collar bone was broken and driven into the lungs, causing an internal hemorrhage, from the effects of which he died a few hours later.

The engineer had put on the brakes as soon as he saw Maxson attempt to cross the tracks ahead of the engine, but the momentum was so great that the disaster occurred before the train could be stopped. The injured man and his companion were taken aboard the train to Shorb's, where they were transferred to the Monrovia local, westward bound. The latter train was met at the Arcade Depot by the police ambulance, which conveyed the patient to the Receiving Hospital. Police Surgeon Hagan saw, after a brief examination, that the man's life could not be saved. If the wound in the chest had not killed him, the one on the head probably would have been sufficient of itself to produce death, though not so quickly.

Maxson never regained consciousness Maxson never regained consciousness after he was struck, but was gradually suffocated by the blood which fluxed his lungs. One of his daughters and her husband, A. C. Drake, who came in from El Monte as soon as they heard the news, were with him when he died. C. M. Smith of the Western Iron Works, who is a distant relative of the family, was also present when the end came.

At the request of the relatives the of the family, was also present when the end came.

At the request of the relatives the body was removed to Paul's undertaking parlors in East Los Angeles to be prepared for burial. The Coroner will probably hold an inquest over the remains today.

The only witness of the accident who could be seen yesterday evening was the man, Warner, but he was so dazed that he could not tell how it happened, except that he made the positive statement that Maxson whipped up his horse to cross the track when it was too late. Warner is very deaf, and says he did not hear or see the train until it was right upon them. The presumption is that Maxson, who was also afflicted with deafness, did not observe the train, either, until it was too late, and in the excitement of the moment urged his horse forward instead of relning him in.

B. F. Maxson was 58 years old, and his horse forward instead of reining him in.

B. F. Maxson was 58 years old, and had lived at El Monte for some years, where he owned one of the best walnut orchards in the county. He is said to have been worth about $150,000$. His wife, who is afflicted with consumption, has been near the point of death for several weeks, and is not expected to survive the shock of her husband's violent taking off. Besides the widow, there are five children in the bereaved family—one son and four daughters.

Still Boyle Heights.

The Ninth Ward Development Association and citizens of Boyle Heights met last night at Korbel Hall, President Stephen C. Hubbell in the chair, for the purpose of considering the advisability of changing the name of Boyle Heights. After considerable discussion, participated in by ex-Mayor W. H. Workman, T. W. Drain, M. T. Collins, Mr. McCoy, and Judge S. C. Hubbell in favor of retaining the name of Boyle Heights, and M. C. Neuner, Mr. Schlosser and F. Layng in favor of the change, a vote was taken, which resulted in three votes for the change and thirty-nine votes in favor of retaining the name of Boyle Heights.

Pleadings in Milk Cases.

Pleadings in Milk Cases.

Justice Morgan yesterday overruled the demurrers to the complaint in the impure-milk cases which have been pending in his court since last week. He also denied the motion to dismiss. H. Miki, one of the defendants, immediately entered a plea of guilty and expressed a willingness to appear tomorrow for sentence. Warner and Peterson, two other defendants, pleaded not guilty, and demanded jury trials, but as they had already waived the jury privilege, the demand was denied. The remaining defendants have not yet decided how they will plead, but it is expected that most of them will say not guilty, and fight the case to a finsh on the grounds of the invalidity of the ordinance.

Oriental Rugs, Wilton Rugs, Persian Rugs, Smyrna Rugs, Axminster Rugs, Wool Art Squares, Moquette Rugs—Rugs, Rugs, Rugs, Rugs.

Beginning this morning we will hold a sale of rugs which will include every size and kind, from a cocco mat to a Royal Kirman hall rug. That they are cheap goes without saying. The prices tell their own tale. You must look to us for money-saving on every kind of merchandise. Take the Oriental Rugs, for instance. We bought them in a way that enables us to sell for less than most dealers pay. Mr. D. A. Hamburger, while on a pleasure trip, picked them up for a song. Import duty and freight amount to more than the original cost. In buying one you will get it cheaper than though you bought it from a native's floor and paid duty and freight yourself. No rug brokers or importers have made a cent of profit on these. The hundred-dollar rug is really a better bargain than the nineteen cent door mat. The fourth floor will be almost entirely devoted to the display. Rugs everywhere on floors, hanging from walls and ceiling and in piles. More rugs than you'll see again in many a day. Sale continues the entire week.
